

NIGHT EDITION

DESPERATE YOUTH

Bound Aged Aunt While He Took Her Money

John L. McMillan, aged 16 years, of Tewksbury, was arraigned before Judge Hadley in the juvenile session of the police court this morning on complaints charging him with larceny from and assault and battery on his aunt. He entered a plea of not guilty but after the aunt and the boy had testified, the court found McMillan guilty and ordered him sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory. He appealed and was held under $300 for his appearance before the superior court.

According to the testimony offered, McMillan had been living with his aged aunt in Tewksbury near the Wilmington line. Last Tuesday he asked her for money and when she refused to give it to him he went into the yard and securing a rope re-entered the house and making two nooses in the rope, threw it over her head and bound her hands together and then stole $1.50 which she had in her possession.

The aunt complained to Officer Painter of Tewksbury who came to Lowell and secured a warrant and subsequently arrested the boy.

Violated Pure Food Law

Four restaurant keepers and two brothers who conduct a provision store were arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning as a result of alleged violations of the pure food laws. The complaints were made by a representative of the Massachusetts Dairy Bureau and the cases were conducted by Alfred W. Lombard, an agent of the bureau. In each case there were two complaints and pleas of guilty were entered. Inasmuch as the defendants entered a plea of guilty Mr. Lombard recommended that the minimum fine be imposed.

Edmund Berger, who conducts a restaurant at 197 Allen street, was charged with selling oleomargarine instead of butter without notifying the party to whom it was served. There were two complaints against him and he pleaded guilty to both. He was fined $10 on one complaint and the other was placed on file. Similar disposition was made in the cases against Thomas McMaster, Edward F. Purcell, and Ebenezer Chapman.

Ameco and Angelo Roussignault were charged with selling process or renovated butter without having it properly wrapped and marked. Both entered pleas of guilty, but Mr. Lombard informed the court that he would be satisfied with one of the men being fined inasmuch as both conduct the same place. The court found Angelo guilty and imposed the minimum fine, $25, which was paid.

As a result of the many cases brought this morning many people in the court room were of the opinion that inferior goods were being sold in many of the provision stores and that a great deal of oleomargarine was being served but Mr. Lombard when questioned by a representative of The Sun stated that Lowell is one of the cleanest cities in the state and speaks well of the manner in which the pure food laws are enforced here.

Neglected His Wife

Harry W. Whitley pleaded guilty to a complaint charging him with neglecting to provide for his wife, Ida F. Whitley. Mrs. Whitley said that her husband left her last year and she had not received a cent from him since June 25th. She said her husband said he was going west. She did not know of his whereabouts until a few days ago when she learned that he was working in Beverly. She secured a warrant and yesterday afternoon Inspector William H. Grady went to that place and placed Whitley under arrest and later brought him to Lowell. Whitley promised to do anything that the court would suggest, but according to the story told by the wife Judge Hadley was afraid to trust him on probation. He was given a sentence of three months in jail.

Drunken Offenders

There were five first offenders for drunkenness who were fined $2 each.

JOINT CONVENTION

It is Expected One Will be Held on March 14

It seems to be a foregone conclusion that the city council will vote to go into joint convention on the night of March 14, the date to which the common council adjourned at its last meeting. The aldermen have waited long and patiently for a joint convention and now they are in doubt as to the sincerity of the common council's promise to meet in joint convention on the date in question.

There has been more or less discussion relative to the suggestion that the common council might be forced into joint convention by order of the court, and at the last meeting of the board of aldermen, Alderman Burns, who said he was sick and tired of the bucking and filling in the lower board, moved that the city solicitor be asked for an opinion as to the council's responsibility in the matter. The city solicitor has not yet "opined."

Section 17 of the city charter deals with the matter of joint convention and this is what it says: "The city council shall annually, as soon after the organization as may be convenient, meet in convention, and elect by joint ballot a city clerk, and a city treasurer and collector of taxes."

B. & M. REPAIR SHOPS

The Mayor Wants Company to Locate Plant Here

So far as Mayor Meehan is concerned no stone will be left unturned in the endeavor to bring the Boston & Maine repair shop plant here or to some point in close proximity to Lowell.

The mayor said today that he would have a personal interview with President Mellen of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad and lay before him the advantages to be derived by locating in this vicinity.

THE NEW CHARTER

Committee Planning to Raise Funds

The sub-committee on finance of the new charter revision held a well attended meeting last night under the presidency of Chairman Fred C. Weld. Every member of the committee was given a proportionate number of names of people from whom they will solicit money to cover expenses encountered by the printing and circulation of certain matters concerning the proposed charter.

Each member of the committee who solicits funds will show his credentials which have been delivered by the chairman of the sub-committee, Mr. Fred C. Weld. The solicitors expect that the donors will act freely for the expenses are heavy.

The Lynn charter revision committee which holds the smallest record for expenses for its new charter, has spent $800, and the new charter of the city of Haverhill has cost the committee in charge $3000.

THE WATER BOARD

Will Seize Land for Driven Well Purposes on Boulevard

The Owners Have Raised the Price to More Than Five Times the Assessed Value

To seize land opposite the lower pumping station on the boulevard in order to increase the supply and improve the quality of the city water is the proposition that will go to the city council in the form of a resolution next Tuesday night.

City Solicitor Lunan is working on the resolution and has asked for a new plan and a revised list of the owners of the land, the number of acres in each lot or parcel, the assessed valuation and the price asked.

According to plans and lists already supplied the solicitor, the owners of the land that vicinity are asking prohibitive prices. The list of lots which the city solicitor thinks is not complete, shows 31 in all, with an assessed valuation of $3260 and the price asked is $17,353.63, or $14,103.63 more than the assessed value.

The resolution to seize the land by right of eminent domain will go to the city council accompanied by a communication from the water board. About a year ago the water board asked the assistance of the state board of health in locating land for new driven wells. The water supply from the wells already in use due to a great measure to successive seasons of drought, has been falling off and the quality of the water has deteriorated. In order to remedy the condition it was deemed necessary to get a new supply and sink new wells.

The state board of health sent two or more engineers here and after going over and experimenting on the land in question, they decided there was a supply there that would warrant the installation of new wells and advised that the city acquire the land. The water board sought an option on the land and found that in a majority of cases the price was prohibitive and outrageous as compared with the assessed valuation. The board then advised that the city condemn the land and seize it under process of law.

PRISONERS GONE

They Escaped From Court Room

BOSTON, March 3.—Joseph M. McCormick, 21 years old, of 33 Maverick sq., and Charles Falschilla, 18 years old, of 11 Erie street, charged with stealing a power saw valued at $161, belonging to Nathan F. Ayer, escaped from East Boston courtroom yesterday and were being sought last evening in Boston and all neighboring cities and towns.

The men had been held for the grand jury and were left alone in the cage in the courtroom a short time while Constable George B. Harrington was transferring prisoners to the city proper.

The two young men tore off enough of the cage railing to get out in the cage ran from the building just as the clerk of court, Thomas H. Dalton, entered the room.

The clerk chased one prisoner, who evaded a six-foot fence in rear of the courtroom and was soon out of sight. The other fugitive went out the front entrance.

*William H. Ryan, charged with complicity in the theft of the boat, and another prisoner held on a different charge, were in the cage, but made no attempt to get away.

SUCTION SHUTTLE

Is Opposed by Rep. Harrington

At the state house yesterday Representative Edward P. Harrington spoke at the hearing on his own bill, which would prohibit the use of the suction shuttle. With a number of shuttles he showed the committee how the sucking is done and how the threading may be done by hand on another kind of shuttle. He said that in the ordinary course a weaver sucks the thread through an eye on the shuttle over 60 times an hour. This is dangerous both to the weaver and to the public. An instance was cited of a man who was consumptive; he secured employment in a mill and worked for eight different weavers, exposing them all to the disease with which he was afflicted. The speaker then exhibited a hand-threading shuttle and showed how to thread it.

$15 FINE IMPOSED

For the Illegal Use of a Transfer

The illegal use of transfers issued by conductors of the Boston & Northern Street Railway company has been prevalent of late and a source of annoyance to the officials of the company. People employed in the mills at North Chelmsford have been in the habit of leaving the car at Tower's corner and giving their transfers to friends who resided in other sections of the city.

The Boston & Northern has been trying for the past few weeks to catch one of the offenders and make an example of him and as a result Thomas J. Mullen, aged 16 years, of Landberg street was arraigned before Judge Hadley in the juvenile session of the police court this morning on a complaint charging him with unlawfully using a transfer ticket.

It was shown that a boy who works in one of the mills in North Chelmsford had been in the habit of securing a transfer and turning it over to Mullen. The court after quoting the law relative to the illegal use of transfers imposed a fine of $15 which was paid.

DRACUT

In mentioning the contests to be balloted upon at the coming Dracut town meeting in yesterday's edition, two important offices were omitted, town treasurer and town auditor. In the former contest the present incumbent, James J. McManmon, was nominated unanimously by the democrats and is seeking his 11th term. Prior to serving as town treasurer, Mr. McManmon, was selectman for two years. On several occasions he has been the nominee of both parties without opposition. This year Service Parker, is the choice of the republicans, but with Mr. McManmon's popularity and his fine record as an official there is but little doubt that he will succeed himself. In the contest for town auditor, Mr. Lawrence Brennan, the present incumbent is the choice of the democrats while Nelson Huntley, is the nominee of the republicans. Although in most cases party lines are strictly drawn in Dracut, two notable exceptions have been the town treasurer and town clerk. As was mentioned above Mr. McManmon has been treasurer for ten years while there have been only three town clerks in a generation. Gatton M. Hall, Charles D. McCarthy and the present incumbent, John J. Brennan, Messrs. Hall and McCarthy left office to remove from the town and Mr. Brennan has ably filled their shoes and will probably continue to do so for years to come.

PLACED IN JAIL SEEKS DIVORCE

Alienation is Charged Against Woman

Lowell Man Accuses His Brother

BURLINGTON, Vt., March 3.—Mrs. Anna Yantz, a dressmaker about 30 years of age, is in jail on a writ in an alienation suit for $3000, brought by Mrs. Edson Isham, who alleges that Mrs. Yantz has stolen Mr. Isham's affections.

Mrs. Isham also charges that undue intimacy has existed between her husband and Mrs. Yantz. The bail in such cases is fixed at the amount stipulated in the suit but an effort will be made by the attorney for Mrs. Yantz to have the amount reduced to $1000.

Mr. Isham was formerly in business here, but sold out several months ago and went to Morrisville. The Ishams have not lived together for a number of weeks, it is said. Mrs. Isham claims that Mrs. Yantz has made frequent trips to Morrisville, where she is said to have posed as Mrs. Isham.

Mrs. Yantz is not on friendly terms with her own husband, Otto Yantz, who is now in Williston, and yesterday she filed a petition for a divorce in county court.

The two families formerly lived in Williston and it was there, according to Mrs. Yantz, that the friendship between Mr. Isham and herself began. Mrs. Yantz claims that she has been shadowed by a detective for three weeks. Mrs. Yantz has two children and the Ishams have one child.

The divorce court in Cambridge, presided over by Judge Quinn, will close with the petition of George Gutknecht of Lowell, formerly of the German army, who married Julia Gutknecht at Lowell, Nov. 30, 1905. The case went over until this morning. A statutory offence is charged and his brother, Adolph, is named as corespondent.

The brother came from Germany in 1903 and went to live with the couple in this city. George became suspicious and having satisfied himself that things were not right, called in a private detective. After further observations he ordered both the brother and the wife from the house. George was testifying at adjournment.

Rufus E. Perkins, a traveling salesman of Medford, was granted a decree against Anna P. Perkins of Plymouth, N. H. The case was heard Wednesday, the husband alleging desertion and naming D. C. Buck as coming between him and his wife.

Marjetta Wilson of Lowell sought a divorce from Henry H. Wilson, also of Lowell, whom she married in 1891. She alleged desertion in 1905, while he contested, charging her with similar action. The case was taken under advisement.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Worthen Street M. E. church held their regular monthly supper and entertainment in the vestry last evening. Supper was served under the supervision of Mrs. J. R. Smith, assisted by ten members of the society. At 8 o'clock the following musical numbers were given: Song, Mrs. F. L. Roberts; reading, Miss Mildred Tinker; duet, Mr. Hutchinson and Mr. Joseph Heathcock; song, Mr. Joseph Heathcock; sketch, Miss Tinker. The accompanists were Miss Bertha Bond and Miss George Wright and Mr. Heathcock had charge of the entertainment.

FIRST TRINITARIAN CHURCH
Mr. Alfred E. Stearns, principal of Phillips Academy, Andover, will speak on "The Church and School" at the Pleasant Sunday Afternoon Service in the First Trinitarian Congregational church on Sunday, at 4.30 o'clock. The address will be one of unusual interest, because of Mr. Stearns' peculiar fitness to speak upon the subject. Phillips Academy is one of the oldest and largest preparatory schools for boys. It has had an honorable history, and numbers now over six hundred boys. Mr. Stearns himself has brought the school to a high place in efficiency, and has gained a great reputation as an educator. He still keeps his interest in athletics, in which he was especially proficient at college, being pitcher of the Amherst college baseball team. The teachers and the boys and girls at school will be particularly interested in Mr. Stearns and his address. There will be a preliminary service for praise and worship.

The speaker for March 12th is Mr. John W. Bengough, a Canadian reformer from Toronto, Ontario, who will give his famous "Economic Chalk Talk."

The speaker for March 19th is Mr. Charles Frederick Adams, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who will speak upon "The Des Moines Plan of Commissioned Government for Cities."

The speaker for March 26th is Mr. Thomas Curley of Waltham, who will speak on "Playgrounds."

BELL, The Tailor 320 Merrimack St. Open Evenings

TO FORTIFY CANAL

WASHINGTON, March 3.—An even score of weary-eyed senators faced Vice President Sherman when at 10 o'clock this forenoon he called the senate together. Adjournment had been taken at 4 a. m.

Among those present were Senators Hale and Stone. They greeted each other pleasantly and engaged in a brief chat before beginning the day's work. Mr. Hale was anxious to begin the consideration of the great sundry civil bill and to this end sought to have the formal reading of yesterday's journal dispensed with.

"I object," said the leader of yesterday's filibuster. Mr. Hale appealed to him, but apparently in vain.

"Won't the senator let us get this formality out of the way so that we can go on with the appropriations," he pleaded.

"I have no objection except that I think that we should have a quorum before we proceed with the question," responded the Missouri senator.

"Let the journal reading go on for the present."

A few minutes later he relented, withdrew his objections and the further reading was dispensed with. Immediately the reading of the sundry civil bill was begun. It proved a formidable document of 246 pages and carrying $142,702,004.

"Do you think you are going to get all the appropriation bills through?" Mr. Hale was asked.

"We shall if they do not filibuster," he said, "but at this stage of the proceeding one senator could easily prevent success. There are four bills yet to be passed by the senate. They are the sundry civil, the postoffice, the naval and the general deficiency. They are the largest and most important of the supply measures and to get them through we shall be compelled to have an unobstructed right of way."

"Mr. Stone was questioned along different lines.

"Is it all over," he was asked.

"One cannot well stand in the way of the appropriation bills," he replied, "but there is still much to do to get through."

"How about the agreement reached early this morning to vote on the tariff board bill tomorrow at 3:30 o'clock?"

"Well, you see a man cannot go on forever. But the bill was so amended that it will be necessary for the house to act on it again and the boys over there ought to be able to take care of it if they don't want it."

Senator Beveridge also was among the early arrivals. He was most hopeful over the prospect for the tariff bill and was most complacent under the felicitations of his friends over the success of his parliamentary tactics in getting the vote agreement.

After the reading of the sundry civil bill had proceeded about 40 minutes Mr. Stone requested an agreement to consider the Canadian reciprocity bill. Noting the clerk's rapid reading of the sundry civil bill the Missouri senator asked the chairman of the committee on appropriations how long a time would be required to complete its consideration. When Mr. Hale replied that he hoped to do so by noon, Mr. Stone said:

"I ask unanimous consent that at that time a vote be taken on the bill known as the Canadian reciprocity bill."

"O, O, Ha, Ha," responded Mr. Hale, apparently amused.

Sleepy as were all the senators, most of them smiled audibly over the suggestion. Senator Grosvenor of North Dakota made formal objection.

"Then," said Mr. Stone, the captain

Played in the Bowling Leagues Was Fined $100 for Speeding Auto

The Massachusetts team won two points from the Lowell Machine shop quintet in a game in the Manufacturers' league last night. The game was played in the Lawrence and Tremont & Suffolk teams the latter team won two of the three points but lost the team total by the narrow margin of four pins.

The Ramblers and J. P. S. of the Minor league had at last night, the former team winning two of the three points. The J. P. S. got into the running in the second string but in the third were all to the ball.

In the Lawrence league the Ramblers showed speed and took two points, losing the third by one pin.

The Jewelers after losing two points won the last one from the Ledgers in a game in the Moody Bridge league last night.

Perrin's Pets had no difficulty in taking two points from the Buffets last night in the Bridge Street Bowlayway league series. The "lunch boys" came to the front in the second string and won by three points but their rolling in the first and third strings proved to be their undoing.

TRIAL POSTPONED

YOUNG MAN CHARGED WITH THEFT OF SILVER

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 3.—The trial of George Conroy, one of the three young men charged with the theft of silver bars valued at $1000 from the Gorham Mfg. Co., was continued until March 7 in the district court today. The other two, having entered pleas of guilty, are being held for the grand jury. All are 18 years old.

LEG LACERATED

Young Man Struck by a Wagon

A young man whose name could not be learned, narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday afternoon when he was struck by a wagon in Centralville. The young man was crossing Alkove avenue at the junction of Lakeview avenue, when he was thrown on the pavement by coming in contact with a delivery wagon emerging from Lakeview avenue.

He was picked up in a semi-conscious condition and carried to Sparks' drug store, where after an examination on the part of the attending physician, it was discovered that the patient suffered from a bad laceration on the left leg. The injured man departed without giving his name, and he also refused to be treated.

THE FRIAR LANDS

Majority and Minority Reports Submitted by Committee

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—Jack Johnson was fined $100 yesterday in the police court for driving his auto at an unlawful speed. Johnson at once served notice that he would appeal the case to a higher court.

At the conclusion of the session Johnson made a blunder which nearly secured him a jail sentence, together with the fine. His blunder consisted in a flippant remark, "I would about as soon go to jail as to be fined so much," he said. "It would be cheaper."

"We can soon accommodate you," said the court.

"He is only joking," one of Johnson's seconds made haste to say, and the matter was passed.

$1000.00 TO CHARITY

Let me offer $1000 to any charity in Lowell for proof of any tailor in the city selling the following goods at the prices I quote and the people would have a better idea of the extraordinary character of the goods and prices at which I will take your order for a Suit Today or Tomorrow as no concern can profitably produce them. And as I know before hand that no concern is producing them for the money---such an offer on my part would be bombastic advertising of slender meaning---a practice in which I never indulge.

But I Will Do This

I'll make to your measure a suit from the world's famous No. 354 Wanskuk Blue Serge.

To Order

$15.00

I'll take your order for a custom made Suit from the equally world famed Sherriff Worsteds. 500 styles to select from.

To Order

$12.50

I'll make you a Suit to order, from the goods of a mill that won't let us use their name, because the mill is too near Lowell, in blacks, blues and fancies.

To Order

$10.00

I CAN'T DO THIS ALWAYS

I Will Do It Today and Tomorrow

You Buy Them! You Won't Be Sorry! You Won't Make Any Mistake!

That WANSKUK SERGE brings $28 to $35 for suits all over the country—it is one of the best mills in the world in blacks and blues.

Those SHERRIFF'S WORSTEDS are sold right here in Lowell, not a stone's throw from my place of business, for $25 a suit, and you are lucky if you buy them for that—get in on these for $12.50.

ANOTHER ARREST

In Connection With Larcenies at the Navy Yard

BOSTON, March 3.—Late yesterday afternoon another arrest was made in connection with the numerous thefts of naval supplies at the Navy Yard. Edward W. Davis, an inspector of the yard, was taken into custody by Deputy United States Marshal Ruhl in the Federal building. Davis came to the Federal building when sent for and gave himself up to Ruhl. He was arraigned before United States Commissioner Hayes and was held in $500 bail for a hearing Monday. Davis, who has been in the Federal employ about eight years, is said to have been one of the best inspectors stationed in the Boston district. He was attached to the staff of Captain George H. Ransom, U. S. N., inspector of engineering, whose office is at 6 Bear-con street.

AN APPEAL TO WIVES

No more terrible affliction can come to any home than the excessive use of intoxicants by husband or son. Think of the money wasted in drink, which is needed in the home to purchase food and clothing. If you have a drinking husband or son, give him ORINE. We are so sure that Orine will do what is claimed for it, that if after a trial no benefits are derived from it, we will refund the money. ORINE is prepared in two forms. No. 1, secret treatment, a powder, absolutely tasteless and odorless, given secretly in food or drink. ORINE No. 2, in pill form, is for those who desire to take voluntary treatment. ORINE costs only $1.00 a box. Write for Free Orine Booklet (mailed in plain sealed envelope) to ORINE CO., 604 Orange Building, Washington, D. C. ORINE is recommended and is for sale in this city by Baker-Jones Drug Co., 119-123 Merrimack street.

be here when you want me." The appeal touched the commissioner, who said: "Well, if you will be here, if you won't run away—" "Oh! he won't run away," broke in Capt. Ransom, who was present when Davis was arraigned. "He hasn't any money to run away." "Then," said Commissioner Hayes, "I'm going to trust you. I'm going to place you under $500 bail and take your personal recognizance if you will promise to be here Monday. I am taking the responsibility myself, remember," added the commissioner. "I'll certainly be here," replied Davis as he left the court room. The articles which Davis is alleged to have stolen were found in pawnshops a short time ago. The officials say that Davis obtained only about $75 for the articles he is alleged to have pawned. Davis, who is about 35 years old, is regarded as an expert in his line. His pay as inspector on Captain Ransom's staff was $5.00 a day. His family in Wollaston is said to be in straitened circumstances.

SUPREME COURT

Says That Ex-Mayor White Must Remain in Jail

BOSTON, March 3.—Ex-Mayor William P. White of Lawrence, convicted on a charge of conspiring to bribe members of the city council to vote for the removal of Chief Hamilton of evidence to warrant a finding that the defendant conspired with the persons who were engaged in the bribery to accomplish, if possible, the removal of Hamilton by that means. The court also says there was no error in impaneling the jury. The defendant had contended that the district attorney should have exercised his right of challenging jurors before him and that by his failure to do so he lost it. In this case the district attorney made two peremptory challenges after the defendant had exercised his prerogative and the latter excepted to the court's allowing such challenges at that time, claiming the challenge should have been made before the defendant exercised his right to object to any of the panel. KILLED HERSELF

Daughter of Ex-Gov. a Suicide

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—Disappointed because she did not receive $500 loaned to a friend during more prosperous days, Mrs. Josephine Quirles, 37 years old, a daughter of Davis H. Waite, former governor of Colorado, committed suicide last night by inhaling gas. Her body was found by her husband, Constantino Quirles, a Mexican.

Despondency over financial reverses is believed to have been the cause.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of thanking our many kind friends and the good men of the Lowell Machine shop for their sympathy and floral offerings upon the death of our beloved husband and father.

Mrs. John Kenney and Family.

The Sirolin Sentinel

Sirolin (Pronounced Sir-o-lin): The celebrated Swiss remedy for coughs and colds.

LOWELL, FRIDAY, MARCH 3, 1911.

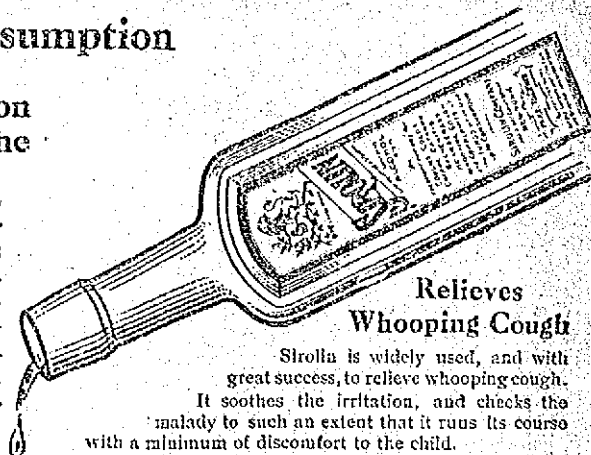

Sirolin Prevents Consumption

This Famous Preparation Keeps The System in Tone

Consumption is caused by carelessness. It is caused by the tubercle bacillus—or consumption germ—attacking the lungs when they are weakened by the effects of a cold, or when the general vitality is lowered. Sirolin prevents consumption because— It promptly dispels the most severe cold without leaving the lungs in a weakened condition. It tones up the entire system, develops the appetite, and acts as an invigorating tonic. It is different from the ordinary preparation for coughs and colds.

Sirolin has no depressing action; it contains no narcotics or other harmful ingredients.

It is the most successful remedy for influenza, bronchitis, colds, coughs, grippe, and other pulmonary affections in the whole field of medicine.

Relieves Whooping Cough

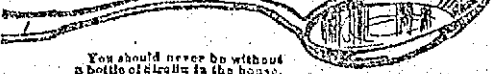

Sirolin is widely used, and with great success, to relieve whooping cough. It soothes the irritation, and checks the malady to such an extent that it runs its course with a minimum of discomfort to the child.

Sirolin Is Not A Patent Nostrum

Its principal ingredient is a palatable derivative of quinine, the active principle of cinchona—in use by medical men the world over in the treatment of grippe, catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, and all organic and functional derangements of the throat and air-passages. It is a physician's remedy, commended by leading doctors.

Sirolin is a clear, syrup-like liquid, pleasant to the taste. If your druggist has not yet got Sirolin, send $1.00 for a full-sized bottle. Send for our interesting Sirolin booklet.

Sirolin contains no morphine, codeine, habit-forming or constipating drug.

STETSON DERBIES AND SOFT HATS FOR SPRING

CLEVER SELECTIONS AT THE SMART CLOTHES SHOP

Stetson hats are not confined to any one store. Several stores in town sell them. There's only one advantage for you in buying at the Smart Clothes Shop. The shops here are correct and smartly styled. They may be elsewhere, but you can depend on it here. The Spring shapes in stiff and soft hats, though centering on a few styles, allow an opportunity for the expression of widely different tastes. In derbies, the low crown, wide brim which we featured last fall, is again the leader, while fuller crowns and more closely rolled brims are here for men of more conservative taste. Soft hats show a tendency to brims with heavier curls, like the cut. The flat pencil curl brim, with the shallow crown is still considered good.

STETSON DERBIES, $3.50.
SOFT HATS, $3.00.
OTHER MAKES, $2.00 and $3.00."

The United States senate has vindicated Lorimer. That is right. Senators who attained office by Lorimer's methods could not vote to put him out.

Very few people realize how strict is the law in regard to the use of transfers on the street cars. To use the transfer of another passenger is fully as bad in the eyes of the law as evading entrance.

The people of Centralville want a public park. That district is growing rapidly, and some suitable tract of land should be set apart for park purposes before all the waste land shall have been built upon or else have become so valuable that its price will be prohibitive.

We do not believe the bill now before the legislature to order the state board of health to stop the discharge of sewage into the Merrimack river will become law. The time has not yet arrived when cities along the Merrimack should be compelled to change their systems of drainage.

THE CONTAGIOUS HOSPITAL

It is time to inquire what the contagious hospital commission is doing. A certain sum was appropriated for plans, and it will soon be time to hear a report of some kind. It is hoped the hospital question will not be held up like the public hall matter.

TO SAVE THE WHITE MOUNTAINS

President Taft has signed the Appalachian-White mountain bill, and now the agencies that have been working for this conservation law for years rejoice. That will save the Crawford Notch and other parts of the White mountains threatened with destruction. The work of stopping the destruction of the forests by natural and artificial means will soon be started.

FOR AN AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL

We notice that the Farmers' Institute, held at Tyngsboro, discussed the matter of a different line of training for boys. Commissioner Suedden of the state board of education gave a very instructive talk and pointed out the advantages to be derived from an agricultural school. The farmers would like to have such a school located near Lowell.

With the opportunities that an agricultural school could give an impetus would be given to farming in this locality and many of the graduates could enter upon farming hereabouts on a large scale.

OUR SANITARY CONDITIONS

The visit of a delegation of Lawrence officials to this city for the purpose of investigating sanitary methods indicates a desire to improve conditions in that city. The health methods adopted for the protection of the (unfortunate) districts were the subject of special inquiry. In this direction Lowell has not done very much beyond cleaning up the back alleys and insisting that no rubbish shall be dumped in alleys or yards. With the coming of spring there will be more work of this kind necessary for the protection of the public health. Every winter leaves a coating of dirt and dust that will have to be cleared away. The street department will have plenty on its hands, and upon the thoroughness of its work will depend whether we shall be free from outbreaks of disease. The board of health should prepare for a general spring cleaning superior to anything done in the past.

THE PAROLE BOARD

The bill before the legislature to establish a new commission to be known as a board of parole, the function of which will be to parole prisoners having served one-third of their sentence and obeyed the prison rules, except for the crime of murder in the first degree, arson and a few other heinous crimes. The law calls for the appointment of parole officers at a salary of $1500 with traveling expenses. We have too many commissions at present and too many of these traveling agents at the government expense. The enactment of such a law would deprive all the legal penalties provided, except in capital cases, of their terror and deterrent effect because nearly every prisoner sentenced would look to the parole board for freedom. It is useless to maintain the courts for the administration of justice if we establish another body such as that proposed to nullify the action of the courts by cutting down the sentences.

THE FARMERS AND RECIPROCITY

The farmers around Lowell are opposed to reciprocity. They like high prices for their produce as well as any other class. The reciprocity measure is directed at the trusts and the cold storage concerns, not at the farmers. We do not believe the farmers will suffer very much by the passage of the reciprocity bill except on a few items such as eggs.

Few of the farmers, it seems, availed themselves of all the opportunities that came to their doors during the reign of high prices. If they had they would have made great profits on poultry, on raising cattle and hogs. There is no reason why a farmer could not make large profits on his investment if he adopts progressive methods and endeavors to supply the public demand for eggs, beef, pork, milk, butter, fruit and vegetables. There may be a slight change in prices under reciprocity which is bound to come; but the farmer will find that if prices of farm products come down he will be compensated in the reduction in the price of other things he will have to buy.

SEEN AND HEARD

The Strand magazine for March contains an interesting and exhaustive article on the Associated Press and gives the latest news of the world as gathered by Mr. Melville E. Stone, the general manager, declares that the "A. P." is writing the history of all nations through its dispatches.

Peoples who are markedly broad-headed are more or less flattened at the back of the head, writes Professor C. H. Hawes, in the March World magazine. Some of the flattest-headed people in the world are found among the Armenians and the tribesmen in the highlands of Asia Minor, and we know that some of them practice the custom of bandaging the babies' heads in order to get them the approved shape.

Knowing this, I was anxious to find out if the same cause had not produced a similar result in Crete. If we omit the better-natured people in the towns and in one village in the mountains all Cretan mothers bind the heads of their children when they, in order to make them of a nice round form. In fact, when I was pressing home my questions in order to make quite sure of the matter, one of the mothers, one of them told me that I had a "very bad head" and that my bumps and ridges ought to have been smoothed away in my infancy. Yet, after a fairly exhaustive inquiry, I came to the conclusion that the bandaging in Crete never tight and lasts for so short a time that nothing is effected. In cases of deformation at birth, however, the accompanying massage probably restores the normal condition more quickly.

If, however, there are no marked results from the head-bandaging, it is otherwise with the children in the swaddling. It seems curious and even cruel to us to see a baby bound tight, hand and foot, and when it cries it is obvious that it is because of the awful discomfort of the prisoned feeling. Cretan mothers, however, cannot understand how we can allow the baby to be restless and uncomfortable. Tightly swaddled, they say, the child is still and contented, never able to overheat itself in hot weather by kicking and throwing its arms about, and in winter equally unable to throw off the clothes and so expose itself. What ever we may think of swaddling, it appears to accomplish one thing—the prevention of bandages. One never sees a bandy-legged Cretan.

FIVE
The raindrops come a-splashing!
Along the window pane,
But there ain't a soul a-carin'!
For the rain, rain, rain;
There ain't a bird a-singin',
Not a nockbird sends its call,
But if they were, a-singin'
Then your voice would drown 'em all.

If clouds are hangin' purple,
Shuttin' out the autumn sun,
There is not a soul a-carin'
For old trouble's on the run;
An' we know the sun is waitin'
To bathe all the world with gold,
An' today's the baby's birthday,
An' the baby's five years old!

So, sister, get the pencil
And fetch the baby here—
Right here beside the doorway
Whilst we add another year;
She is full two inches taller
Than she was a year ago—
Is that the rain against the window?
Let it blow, blow, blow.

She is just a little taller
Since she donned this added year,
Just a tiny little taller
But a thousand times as dear
So what if life is stormy,
Since our little bit of cheer,
For our little bit of cheer,
Has put on another year.

So come and love your daddy,
Save a love for mother, too,
And sister has five kisses
She is wild to give to you,
And let the day be rainy—
It's good to be alive
And have a little baby
That has just turned five!

PEOPLE OF NOTE

At the annual meeting of the British Royal Humane society, the other day, it was announced that the Stanhope gold medal for 1910 had been awarded to Frank Fraser, chief engineer of the steamship Doniside, of Aberdeen, who thus attains the distinction of being recognized as the "bravest man of the year." The deed of gallantry performed by Mr. Fraser is thus described: Shortly after midnight on Aug. 27th, the Doniside was on the Viking bank some 25 miles northeast by east of Aberdeen, the night being pitch dark and the weather rough. Although there was a heavy sea running the captain decided to shoot the trawl, and when he thought all was clear shouted to let go, but, unfortunately, John Fraser, a deck hand, was carried over the side. Hearing the cry, "Man overboard," the chief engineer, Frank Fraser, rushed up from below, and at once phoning after him succeeded in reaching the man, who was his own brother, both then drifting astern.

Several record prices for stamps were paid at the sale of the collection of U. S. stamps forming part of the collection of John R. Stanton, a copper mining expert of New York city. The collection is valued at about $30,000.

An uncancelled five-cent St. Louis postmaster provisional issue of 1846 on grayish paper brought $360, and a cancelled five-cent issue of 1845 on greenish paper $210. A two-cent blue Annapolis, with no trace of cancellation, went for $240, and an unlisted five-cent red Kittanning, Pa., letter sheet for $25.

Of the general issues, a used 15-cent brown and blue issue of 1869, with the picture inverted, brought the high price, $255, and it was closely followed by the two-cent carmine and black of 1891, with centre inverted, which realized $200.50. A 24-cent green and violet issue of 1869, picture inverted, used copy, fetched $130. A 24-cent blue, unused, issue of 1851-56, sold for $142; a cancelled 30-cent orange of the same issue $105, and an unused 90-cent blue, also of the same issue, $138.

Among the other specimens of the general issues were a strip of three of the ten-cent black of 1847, cancelled in red, $16.50; right diagonal half of the 12-cent of 1851-56, used as six-cent, on entire original envelope, $27; three-cent red of 1851, August issue, unused, $21; a 24-cent green and violet, issue of 1869, picture inverted, used copy, $180; 30-cent blue and carmine of 1850, without grill, mint block, of four, $80; a four-cent blue of 1893, error in the color, unused copy, $38; six-cent brown of 1895, with watermark "U. S. I. R.," used copy, $60.

Among the stamps issued for the use of the various departments at Washington, a strip of five, $20-State bright $205. The Carrier stamps included a fine copy of the three-cent New York, 1812, on original cover, and cancelled in red, "New York, December 24, 20c.," showing that it was used as a two-cent stamp, $85; a block of twelve three-cent blue, issue of 1842, unused, $230, and a one-cent black envelope stamp of Philadelphia, 1851, $100.

The special "extension and endowment fund" secured by Johns Hopkins university within the past year amounted to about $1,200,000. Of this sum the trustees of the university contributed $240,000, the alumni about $300,000 and the people of Baltimore about $400,000.

The artistic finish and stylish contour which so much improve the appearance of present day footwear were first given to the public upon the completion of the Goodyear Welt system of shoe-making machines. These machines, which represent the thoughts and life work of the world's greatest inventors, were brought to a high state of efficiency immediately after The United Shoe Machinery Company succeeded in bringing together and combining the best of a large number of machines into the sixty which now make a shoe from beginning to end.

GOODYEAR WELT

Goodyear Welt Shoes are superior in all these qualities which make shoes desirable. The plan of their construction insures solidity, comfort and grace. From the first step to the last each shoe receives the same treatment as if made by hand—every movement of the old-time shoemaker is mechanically reproduced.

There is an evenness of stitch and trimming that strictly hand work cannot attain—a symmetrical conformation that measures perfection. There is a shape for every foot—a style for every fancy—a kink for every whim. No matter how freakish a last may be, Goodyear Welt machines will build a shoe around it and endow it with class and durability.

If you have never worn Goodyear Welt Shoes you have a luxury in store for you that will not cost you a penny extra. You will encounter a new and delightful foot-cure.

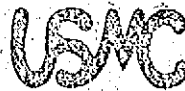

There are fully 500 different names of shoes made by this process. All are good—all are dependable. Some are sold by leading retailers in every town. But to make sure of getting them, send for the list of Goodyear Wets before you buy another pair of shoes.

Thus you make sure of getting great durability, style and comfort at an economical price. Your name and address brings this important information.

Two other booklets will also be sent you. One describes the sixty machines and their work. The other is "The Secret of The Shoe—An Industry Transformed."

Both are interesting, both are free. Send for them.

GOING TO MARRY

Miss Morrell Tells of Plans in Unique Way

GARDINER, Me., March 3.—Miss Dora May Morrell of 57 Belvidere street, Boston, in a letter published in a local newspaper yesterday, publicly announces, in a unique way, her approaching marriage, much to the surprise of her many friends here.

"I am to have a new home, a real one, not one where trunks are unpacked and furniture set up for a little while, but a real place to live in as you happy folk in Gardiner do in your houses.

"I am to be married on March 17, unless death prevents, and the next real home will be in Baltimore. I am to marry Mr. Henry Ellis Hughes, and I shall not say anything about him because 'actions speak louder than words' and mine are speaking for me, as I have never had the marrying habit very strong, and the only bit of caution I have ever had in life has kept me from daring to start to walk in the dark over a path I could not know. I never like to go where I cannot get out.

"However, now I am willing to trust, and do not believe it is well for women to live alone, whether it is for man or not. Probably I shall now become an active member of the matchmakers' association. It is better for a man or woman to have the two-sided rather than the one-sided outlook on life. I have always been associated very much with men, and so I know how valuable the training is that the masculine outlook on life and events gives a woman, and how broadening it is for her mind, which is more likely to be narrow.

"Do you ever remember of a couple marrying that some one did not think it was an ill-matched pair? I wouldn't have thought he would have fancied her, or vice versa, are comments that attend every marriage, which seems to indicate that others do not know as well as you do yourself what you want in the other half of you, the second thing for you to weigh earnestly is that there is only one reason why any man should want to marry me, since I am neither rich nor handsome.

"I am not sending out any formal invitations, for several reasons which seem good to me, one being that I have so many friends, some of whom I surely would leave out, by inadvertence. I am sending no invitations except this informal notice to friends, and this takes from my marriage any sense of people having given me presents because they felt they had to. I should be sorry to have that sort of sentiment attend my wedding, and it all ways does go where any invitations are issued.

"I am to be married at St. Luke's church, Commonwealth ave., Alston, at 6 o'clock the evening of March 17. Yes, I know it is Friday, but Friday is my lucky day. We go on Saturday to our home in Baltimore, 2821 Clifton ave., Walbrook, Baltimore, Md., reaching that place on Monday afternoon. I move from my present address in Boston, March 16, and if any are to remember me with letters or gifts, as of course I know some will do, please send them to me to reach there no sooner than the 21st, and if you do not hear from me at once after I should hear from you, you will know that I have not received word from you. I have known individuals who did not acknowledge their wedding remembrances, but I am not one of that kind.

"Any friend who cares about me enough to come to my wedding at the church is invited to do so. I doubt if it will be worth while to be there, as the marriage in a spectacular sense won't be very striking. The Waltham cars, also the Newton and Brighton line pass the church door, and there are several other lines that leave one within two minutes' walk of the church. I believe there will be some opportunity to greet the friends who are present, though no formal reception.

COFFEE PARTY

HELD AT THE GRACE UNIVERSALIST CHURCH

The vestries of the Grace Universalist church were the scene of a pretty gathering last night when the regular monthly coffee party of the church was held. The attendance was very large and a general good time was enjoyed throughout the evening.

A delicious supper was served to several hundred guests and a delightful entertainment consisting in the main of two clever sketches given by capable amateurs, and supplemented by readings and other numbers, was presented.

The first sketch was entitled "A Backward Child," and was presented by Master Raymond White and Miss Eva Pickles. The second sketch was "She Came Back to Life," given by Miss Maybelle M. Mollay, Mrs. T. E. Wilde, Henry W. Leavitt and Clifford M. Grant.

There were also several interesting readings given by Miss Condray, a promising young reader. Mrs. Thomas E. Wilde had general charge of the entertainment program, and Miss Eva Rollins had general charge of the dining room, and also accompanied on the piano.

MANY CHANGES

In the Handling of Dynamite Recommended

BOSTON, March 3.—Changes in the method of handling dynamite and powder in Boston are recommended in a report made to the mayor last night by the maritime affairs committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, as the result of an investigation following the recent explosion in New York city.

The committee found that the explosives have been usually carried down Atlantic avenue in the heart of the business section, taken by hand over slippery landing stages to a gasoline launch and then conveyed to hulks in the harbor located within half a mile of a thickly populated part of South Boston. One occasion is instanced in which a horse started off alone down Atlantic avenue with a load of dynamite, the driver and guard being otherwise engaged.

The committee disapproves of the explosives being taken through Atlantic avenue, advises that a steam launch properly arranged be substituted for the gasoline launch, and wants a change in location of the storage hulks.

FINANCE BOARD

To Investigate Appointment of Assessors

BOSTON, March 3.—The finance commissioners are preparing to present at a public hearing to be held during the coming week the influences which an investigation has revealed to Attorney M. J. Suggins and Assistant Attorney Dowling of the commission have been brought to bear in the appointment of certain persons as first assistant assessors and the dropping out of others.

It was rumored at city hall yesterday that notice had already been given to Jeremiah J. McCarthy, supervisor of the port, and to Senator Timothy of Ward 18 that summonses have been prepared for them to appear at the hearing.

It was stated that they will be questioned in regard to the appointment of William H. Oakes of Charlestown and John J. Butler of Ward 18, both of whom were appointed on the board of first assistants. It is also the intention of the commission to call Councilor James M. Curley of Ward 17 before the commission at the same hearing provided he can leave the hospital.

ROLAND G. GARROS

REACHED DISTANCE OF 12,052 FEET ABOVE SEA LEVEL

MEXICO CITY, March 3.—Roland G. Garros, flying a monoplane, reached a height of 12,052 feet above the valley of Mexico yesterday. The altitude here is 7294 feet, which gave him an altitude above sea level of 12,052 feet. He carried a barograph authorized by the Aero club of France. His weight, 130 pounds, was a determining factor of the flight. He was in competition for altitude with Rene Harrier and Rene Simon for a cup offered by the Mexican Herald. This is said to be the greatest altitude ever attained in an aeroplane above sea level.

PARK ASSESSMENTS

METROPOLITAN EXPENSE IS UPHELD BY THE COURT

BOSTON, March 3.—Judge Hammond of the supreme court yesterday afternoon overruled all objections made by Boston, Cambridge, Melrose, Hyde Park, Belmont and Wakefield to the appointment made by commissioners appointed by the court for the cost of the maintenance of the Metropolitan park system for a period of five years beginning July 1 next.

The judge said: "I have considerable doubt as to the right of the commissioners to make separate assessments of such part of the expense of the Charles river basin as is to be assessed upon by the cities and towns of the Metropolitan districts, but have thought the best course in the present state of the case is to accept the award made by the commissioners."

GRAND RECITAL

In Aid of the Playground Movement

A recital of more than usual brilliancy, in aid of the playgrounds for children, was given by Mr. Marshall Darrach before a large and appreciative audience last night in Colonial hall. "The Tempest" was very nicely given. Mr. Darrach's motions are finished, his speaking his thorough study as well as his dramatic talent.

Mr. Darrach previous to his reading of the parts, explained the scenes. It requires more than ordinary ability to change from one character to another, especially so when each character is decidedly different. Mr. Darrach was at his best in his portrayal of Caliban, the wicked monster. The scene with Caliban, Trinculo the fester, and Stephano, the drunken butler, was the source of much merriment.

Living and breathing on the stage were grave Prospero, seeming above humanity with his deep tone and magic wand; Miranda, sweet and full of sympathy; Ariel, an airy, delicate spirit, and Ferdinand, the king's son, mystified and wondering, yet brave in spite of all.

Worthy of special mention is the beautiful speech of Prospero, as vested in his magic robes near the closing of the drama, he says his farewell to the spirits. By many this speech is considered as Shakespeare's farewell to his dramatic work, for if not the last play this is one of the very last written by this master of drama.

The playgrounds committee deserves commendation for securing such a treat to Lowell. The next one will be given on "Julius Caesar," a tragedy which will call into full play all of Mr. Darrach's genius. The recital will begin at 8 to make it more convenient for those attending.

The playground committee comprises the following ladies: Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, Mrs. Sidney Fleet, Miss Louise Hall, Miss Mabel Metcalf, Miss Winifred Haggerty, Mrs. Haven Hill, Miss Addie Merrill and Miss Alice Owens.

The ushers of the evening were Miss Louise Hall, Miss Addie Merrill, Mrs. Sidney R. Fleet, Miss Mabel Metcalf, Miss Agnes Bailey, Miss Mary Bailey, Miss Mary Robinson, Mrs. Winslow Clark, Miss Louise Smith, Miss Winifred Nelson and Miss Winifred Haggerty.

THE PEOPLE'S CLUB

An interesting lecture on "A Royal Round From Ocean to Ocean" was delivered by Ira F. Harris of Nashua in the first course under the auspices of the People's club in the Ranelagh building last night. The lecture was illustrated with stereopticon views taken in different lands. Mr. Harris has been a traveler for a number of years and his careful selection of scenes of the beaten paths was much admired. His ability to set forth in a few words a word painting of each scene enhanced last night's lecture. The attendance was large.

HOW TO TREAT THE SKIN

Many skin diseases like eczema are due to an external cause and are not the result of impure blood. The taking of internal medicines is a waste of time and money, as many sufferers can testify. The simplest and safest remedy is Cadum, the new medical compound. It stops the itching at once, and the healing begins immediately. People who have suffered for years and who have tried everything should take fresh courage, for this new compound is different from anything else. It is for sores, psoriasis, ulcers, ringworm, rash, pimples, scaly skin, eczema, eruptions, blotches, itch, etc. 10c and 25c per box at all druggists.

BETTER SERVICE

B. & M. Officials Hear Petitioners

The residents of Pawtucketville who have been complaining of late of the poor car service in the Moody street district feel confident that the matter will be adjusted by the officials of the Boston & Northern.

The committee recently appointed by the Pawtucketville Social club to interview the officials of the street railway company, conferred with Messrs. Thomas Lees and H. E. Farrington of the latter company yesterday. The men were received in a courteous manner by the representatives of the company and were heard with deep interest. They asked for a 15 minute service and a larger car on the early morning trip.

The members of the committee were assured that their wants would be given consideration and that the difficulties arising between the company and the residents of the Pawtucketville district would be adjusted in a very short time.

The members of the committee were the following: W. W. Thibodeau, Horatio Martel, Councilman Arthur Genest, Louis P. Turcotte, Wilford L. L'Esperance, Joseph Harvey, ex-officio.

$39,000 VERDICT

Set Aside by the Full Bench

BOSTON, March 3.—A verdict that gave Louis S. Chase and others $39,000 damages for the death of Mrs. Chase, killed in an automobile smashup on a grade crossing at Brookfield by a train on the New York Central railroad, was overruled yesterday by the full bench of the supreme court, which holds the plaintiff not entitled to judgment because the automobile was not legally registered and was consequently upon the highway unlawfully.

The auto had been registered, but was sold four days before the accident and the court held that the sale invalidated the registration, which had not been renewed by the new owner.

The next meeting will be March 15 with Mrs. Upham, No. 142 Princeton street.

THE SCHECHITA

METHOD OF SLAUGHTERING ANIMALS BY JEWS DEFENDED

BOSTON, March 3.—The Schechita, or method of slaughtering animals employed by the Jews, was defended before the committee on public health of the Massachusetts legislature at the state house yesterday afternoon by others of the faith, in opposition to a bill offered by President Francis H. Rowley of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The bill was for the enactment of a law requiring the "effective stunning or deprivation of senses" of animals before being slaughtered, which would forbid the kosher process employed by the Hebrew people in observance of their religious tenets.

Dr. Rowley contended that the kosher process was attended by a degree of cruelty which should be eliminated.

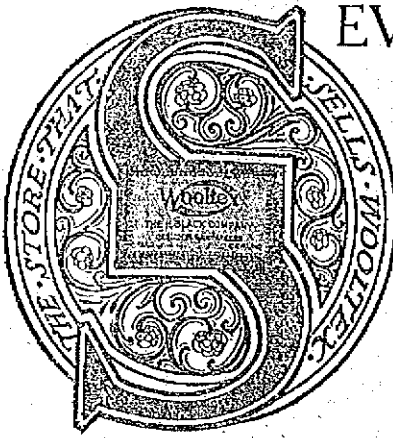

Jacob D. Haas, representing the Jews, declared the methods employed by his people were most humane and had never been forbidden in any country except Switzerland, where the Jews were too few to meet the issue. Tabbi J. M. Richter declared the kosher process most rabid anti-semitic legislation he had ever known, while Dr. Louis Arkin argued that the keen knife used in the kosher process drew blood from the brain and thus made the method most humane.

MEN'S SPRING DERBIES

The NEW SPRING DERBIES are wider in brim and lower in crown--such a distinct departure from last fall's shapes that a new hat is a necessity, if you want to be correctly dressed.

We desire to call your attention to the fact that all our Hats are MADE IN AMERICA and all carry the UNION LABEL.

We have no desire to carry Hats made in Foreign countries--because every dollar spent on foreign hats is sent across the water and is a dollar taken away from workmen in America.

American Made Hats are good enough for us. How about you?

The YORICK is our special $3.00 Derby and is a particularly smart shape. At the same price we show the MERRIMACK SPECIAL, the LAMSON AND HUBBARD and GUYER DERBIES, each in several proportions. The MERRIMACK DERBY is our leader--a $3.00 quality for a $2.00 price.

The New Spring Shirts, Neckwear and Gloves are displayed in our windows this week.

REV. J. A. BOWLER

A FORMER LOWELL PASTOR, IS DEAD

Rev. John Atwood Bowler, a former Lowell pastor, died at his home in Springfield, on Tuesday, at the age of 55 years, after a brief illness. He had been a Methodist minister for more than 30 years.

Dr. Bowler was well known in the lecture field through chalk-talk addresses at camp meetings and before Young Men's Christian associations.

He was born in Watertown, the son of Rev. George Bowler, a well-known Methodist minister, who was known as "the fighting parson" during the Civil war, and who was a colonel in the Forty-sixth Massachusetts Volunteers. John Atwood Bowler was educated in the public schools of Watertown and at Wesleyan university, from which he was graduated in 1877. For about three years he was engaged in photography and then entered the ministry, receiving an appointment from the Methodist conference of New Hampshire.

He held several pastorates in New Hampshire until 1898, when the general conference made the Lowell church, of which he was the pastor, a member of the New England conference. Dr. Bowler had since presided over churches in Lowell, Buxville, Saxtonville and Warren. About a year ago he was appointed evangelist by the New England conference. He made himself well known by "chalk talks" for the sterling camp meetings and other bodies. He leaves a wife and two children, Bertram E. and Miss

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 3.—A complete reorganization of the democratic party in this state was decided upon by the state committee of that party here last night when the request of the democratic congressional delegation from this state was adopted by a vote of 40 to 39. Members of the regular party organization say that the plan which contemplates the selection of new state officers and a new national committeeman cannot be carried out under the present party rules.

THE TARIFF BOARD

Vote on the Measure Will be Taken Tomorrow

Agreement Was Reached in the Senate This Morning—Democratic Senators Bitter When Senator Stone Was Taken From the Floor

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Order out of chaos was brought at 3.05 o'clock this morning, when the senate, after listening to many hours of filibustering, reached an agreement that at 3.30 o'clock Saturday morning a vote would be taken on a bill to create a permanent tariff board. "What" had been supposed to be the death knell for this measure had been sounded several hours before. The senate at 4 o'clock adjourned until 10 o'clock to-day.

Unfamiliarity with the rules of the senate on the part of men who were engineering the obstructive tactics was responsible for the crumbling of the opposition. Senator Stone, confident of his ability to hold the floor for the night, had permitted the coterie of long distance talkers who were to succeed him today, to go to their homes. Learning that fact, Senator Beveridge invoked rule 19 of the senate, "no senator shall speak more than twice on a subject of debate on the same day without leave of the senate."

Senator Stone had spoken early in the day on the tariff board bill. He spoke again at the night session. During his latter speech he moved to prolong the sundry civil bill which motion, under the rules of the senate, had the effect of taking him from the floor pending the disposition of that motion. The motion was defeated and immediately upon his attempting to resume his speech, Senator Beveridge made the point of order that Mr. Stone already had spoken twice.

Vice-President Sherman was inclined not to provide a controversy and at once asked Mr. Stone if he had spoken twice. Mr. Stone would neither deny nor affirm the statement but declared that he could not remember. Thereupon the vice-president called upon the official stenographers and it was found that their notes verified Mr. Beveridge's point. Mr. Sherman suspended the point, which deprived Mr. Stone of the floor.

It was just 2 o'clock when Mr. Stone was compelled to take his seat. Senator Overman essayed to fill his shoes but was not equipped for a long speech and an hour later the agreement was made fixing the time for a vote. At the request of several senators, the agreement included the taking up of the naval appropriation bill but after that had been considered for a little less than an hour, Mr. Stone forced an adjournment. He made a point of no quorum and as so many senators had gone home after getting the tariff board bill out of the way it was impossible to muster enough senators to remain in session. An adjournment was therefore ordered until 10 a. m.

Considerable bitterness was exhibited by democratic senators when Mr. Stone was taken from the floor. The Missouri senator himself protested loudly that the record of his previous speeches should be read so that the senate might judge whether he had exhausted his right under the rules to speak on the tariff board bill. This vice-president declined to read these speeches and called Mr. Stone to order when he declared the ruling of the chair to be arbitrary and unjust.

Mr. Stone, repeating the charge, sat down.

Not having any speakers present who would be able to hold the floor for the remainder of the night and during the following forenoon, Senator Stone was a willing listener to a suggestion which came a short time later from Senator Carter of Montana. It was proposed by Mr. Carter that a time be fixed on Saturday for a vote on the tariff board bill so that all of today and tonight could be devoted to not consent to the fixing of a time for a vote unless the senate proceeded immediately to the consideration of appropriation bills.

Immediately a group of senators surrounded Mr. Heyburn and pleaded with him to relent. Mr. Stone displayed some anger because of the objection and he, too, had to be pacified. Senator Carter finally suggested that a compromise might be made by incorporating in the agreement a rule to proceed with the naval appropriation bill. Senator Stone accepted this because he believed it could be gotten out of the way in half an hour.

The naval bill took more time than was anticipated and after nearly an hour had been devoted to it Mr. Stone protested that it was evident that it could not be finished without keeping the senate too long and he moved an adjournment.

The motion was rejected, whereupon he raised the point of no quorum. Rather than rout tired senators from their beds, Senator Perkins moved to adjourn.

The postoffice appropriation bill, which was considered early in the evening, was not finished.

COL. BENSON

HAS A CHIMPANZEE THAT UNDERSTANDS GERMAN

BOSTON, March 3.—An educated chimpanzee, which eats at table, uses a knife and fork and occupied a state-room all by himself, arrived here yesterday on the Leyland Liner Devonian from Liverpool. The chimpanzee suffered from seasickness as the weather was extremely rough.

Col. John T. Benson, who left here several weeks ago to study zoology in Germany, picked up the animal in Hamburg. It is of the centrona species of West African chimpanzees, a very rare animal.

It is two years old, trained by the best monkey trainer in Germany and understands German perfectly, so that it was necessary to engage a German attendant, Mr. Scholter, to accompany the monkey to Boston.

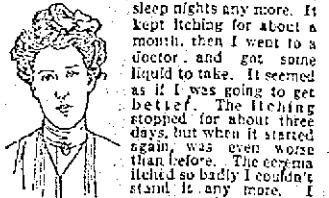

Col. Benson said that just before sailing from Liverpool a dinner was given at the hotel Adelphi, at which the chimpanzee was an invited guest. Col. Benson said that Major Hutchinson of Liverpool, who attended the function, christened the animal John Willey.

Two boys, one an Armenian and the other a Hebrew, who came over on the steamer, accompanied by their parents, were held for examination by the immigration doctors. The Devonian brought in 2500 tons of general cargo.

'ECZEMA ITCHED SO I COULDN'T STAND IT'

Began by Little Pimples. Scratched Until Blood Came. Kept Getting Worse. Could Not Sleep Nights. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and the First Day They Relieved Itching. In 3 Weeks Eczema Cured.

"I suffered with eczema on my neck for about six months, beginning by little pimples breaking out. I kept scratching till the blood came. It kept getting worse, I couldn't sleep nights any more. I kept itching for about a month, then I went to a doctor and got some liquid to take. It seemed as if it was going to get better. The itching stopped for about three days, but when it started again, it was even worse than before. The doctor said I badly I couldn't stand it any more, I went to a doctor and he gave me some medicine, but didn't do any good. We have been having Cuticura Soap and Ointment in the house, so I decided to try them. I had been using Cuticura Soap so I used a box of Cuticura Ointment, and washed out the affected part with Cuticura Soap three times a day, and then I used the Cuticura Ointment on the first day I used it, and it relieved me of itching so I could sleep all that night. It took about a week, then I could see the skin clear out. I kept the treatment up for three weeks, and my eczema was cured."

"My brother had his face burned with gunpowder, and he used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The people all thought he had been scarred, but you can't see that he ever had his face burned. It was simply awful to look at before the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. He used it for three weeks, and it cured him. I have recommended it to a lot of my friends." (Signed) Miss Elizabeth Gehl, Forest City, Ark., Oct. 16, 1910.

Cuticura Soap (25c) and Cuticura Ointment (50c) age sold throughout the world. Send 10c for a free book on the skin.

ANNUAL MEETING

Of the Gorham Street Methodist Church

At the annual society meeting of the Gorham Street Methodist church, held last evening, Rev. N. W. Matthews, was unanimously elected pastor. It was his 15th election as pastor of the Gorham Street church.

Mr. Joseph Sutcliffe had charge of the opening exercises of the meeting. E. W. Stark was moderator and Sam Aspin, clerk.

It was voted to increase the pastor's salary $100. The election of a pastor was next in order and Messrs. Carl Santesson, Fred Lett and Fred Potter were appointed tellers.

For pastor, first choice, Rev. N. W. Matthews was unanimously elected; for second choice, Rev. S. T. Nichols of Philadelphia, and third choice, Rev. J. T. Barlow of Fall River.

REV. N. W. MATTHEWS

Messrs. David Ingham and E. Robinson were delegated to the parsonage and returned with the Rev. N. W. Matthews while the congregation rose and sang, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

The pastor thanked the members for their invitation to stay another year. While he did not state his intentions at the present time, waiting for the official notification from the clerk, it is nevertheless expected that he will accept. He also stated that the past year had been a very successful one both spiritually and financially. About 25 have been admitted to membership and $700 has been paid off the debt.

The society also voted to hold the annual effort for debt reduction in the fall. It was decided to hold a bazaar. The meeting closed with the benediction by the pastor after which the quarterly conference met for the confirmation of the nominees.

THE OPERA HOUSE

What is proving the most successful week of the present stock season at the Opera House is now being played by the Thompson-Plynn players who are presenting Charles Klein's powerful American drama of financial and social life, "The Lion and the Mouse," every afternoon and evening this week. This play which has been one of the most successful of any that has been produced during the past twenty years, has never before been seen here at popular prices and in securing it for the current week's bill the management has not only paid a very large royalty for the use of the play but has gone to a considerable expense in staging it with the result that a complete production equal in

SCHOOL BUILDINGS

SHOULD BE PUT TO GREATER USE, SAYS DR. STITT

BOSTON, March 3.—"Public school buildings should be put to a greater use, with mixed dancing for children, moving picture shows once a week, bowling alleys in the waste cellars, cooking schools and clubs for fathers and mothers," declared Dr. Edward W. Stitt, district superintendent of public schools of New York city, last night at one of the first day's sessions of the Massachusetts civic conference.

Dr. Stitt believes the public buildings could be profitably used to combat illness and evil influences of moving picture shows in bad localities, furnish moral and physical safety for children and for teaching them organized games. He deplored the fact that such buildings caused a great waste at the present time, being used but a small portion of the time.

TELEPHONE ALARM

A telephone alarm at 10.22 o'clock last night summoned a portion of the fire department to a chimney fire in a house in Trier street belonging to Robert G. Bartlett. The blaze was extinguished before any damage was done.

advised to make haste. It is one of the prettiest, most tuneful and altogether most attractive acts seen here in some time.

Yo Colonial Sorenaders are a mixed quartet with an excellent repertoire of stirring songs and just the right sort of voices to make those songs sound well. The act is elaborately costumed and has special electrical effects.

Vonder and Belmar are a couple of knockabout acrobats who make Lowell their home and who are experts both at feats of strength and fun making. There is also Jack Dempsey, the tramp dancer, and Ray F. Dennis, a capable soloist.

The feature film is that of the funeral of Archbishop Ryan, in Philadelphia. Albert McGovern, well known here as a character actor, also appears in several of the Lubin films on view.

A continuous performance is presented daily from 1 until 10.30 o'clock.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

A pleasing show was presented at the Academy yesterday. Follen had a clever ventriloquist novelty. McIntire and Franklin Twins, the musical comedy trio, appear in a singing and dancing act and one that is a very dainty offering. Sir General, the world's most highly educated pony, is a clever performer and goes through a routine of tricks with human-like intelligence.

every way to that of the original company, is being seen. The members of the company are giving a splendid account of themselves in their respective parts and making many new admirers each day by the excellent rendition of the characters assigned them. In the role of "John Burckett Ryder," the central figure of the play, Forrest Stanley, the leading man of the company, has a part that tests the capability of the most sterling actor and that his rendition of the role brings most favorable comparison with that of the talented men who have preceded him here in this part is indeed warm praise. Miss Whitehouse, Miss Sanders, Messrs. McQuarrie, Christy, Haines and Clarke are equal factors in giving what is one of the best performances ever seen here by a stock company. Next week's piece will be another strong one as "The Call of the North," a play seen here with Robert Edison as the star, will be the offering. Seats for all performances for both this week and next are now on sale at the box office.

THE VETO BILL

Second Reading Was Passed by a Majority of 125

LONDON, March 3.—Four days of the most uninteresting debate ever given a measure involving a great constitutional reform came to an end last night when Premier Asquith applied veto and the second reading of the veto bill was passed by a majority of 125, the vote being 363 to 238. Prior to this the house divided on Asquith's Chamberlain's amendment, with a majority of 121 against it.

The focus on the veto bill was greeted with prolonged cheers, after which the bill, on the premier's motion, was committed to a committee of the whole house for this stage, which is likely to be deferred some time, to enable the government to dispose of financial business. The opposition leaders are drafting an elaborate series of amendments.

The participation of Mr. Balfour in today's debate gave a temporary lull to the otherwise dull proceedings. Although not in the best of form the former premier kept the interest alive, but not always to the entire advantage of his party. For instance, expatiating on the value of the hereditary principle, he exclaimed: "Let it be our servant; let it no longer be our master."

This admission was received with a burst of laughter.

Pending the committee stage of the bill, interest will now center in the expected production next week of Lord Lansdowne's bill for the reform of the house of lords.

Mr. Chamberlain's amendment, which was defeated, was moved on Monday last on behalf of the opposition. It was to the effect that the house would welcome the introduction of a bill which, while reforming the composition of the house of lords, would confer upon it the power of proposing and passing legislation. The amendment was defeated by a majority of 125, the vote being 363 to 238.

LABOR COUNCIL

Arranging for Spring and Summer Season

The members of the Trades and Labor council held their regular meeting last night at 32 Middle street. President John J. Mahoney occupied the chair and 35 delegates were present.

A communication was received from Senator W. Murray Crane, stating that he had recommended the appointment of the two men endorsed by the council for inspector and assistant inspector of locomotive engines. These two men are E. H. Jeffries and J. H. Jackson, both of Pennsylvania, and formerly president and vice president of the Brotherhood Trainmen.

A letter was also received from Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, in which the senator stated that he was sorry, for he has recommended other men for the positions.

A communication from the International Paper Makers' union calling the attention of the delegates to the fact that union label paper can now be produced, was read and referred to the label committee.

A communication from the Federation of Churches, asking for the privilege of sending fraternal delegates to the council meeting was read, and it was unanimously voted to grant the request.

The stationary firemen reported that Senator Quigley has introduced a bill in their favor and asked the council to endorse the same, and the request was granted.

The delegates connected with the building trades reported that business in their various lines was picking up, and they looked for a prosperous spring and summer.

The legislative committee reported that they have been actively at work in behalf of the various labor bills now before the legislature.

The label committee organized with Timothy Rourke as chairman and Joseph S. Mitchell as secretary. Several important matters were referred to the committee.

WHIST PARTY

CONDUCTED IN AID OF ST. CO. LUMBA'S PARISH

A pleasant evening was spent last night at the home of Mrs. Daniel W. Cogger, 837 Moody street, when a pretty whist party was given for the benefit of St. Columba's parish.

The affair was attended by over 100 people and an entirely informal musical program was given. Miss Frances Tighe and Andrew and Tony Doyle assisted in the entertaining and also sang solos. Miss Mae Riley accompanied on the piano.

Appropriate prizes were awarded as follows: First ladies, Mrs. John J. Mahoney; second, Miss Lillian Harrington; consolation, Mrs. Martin Cryan.

Warren Riordan captured the first gentlemen's prize, while the second went to Michael McHugh; the consolation prize was awarded Mayor John F. Meehan.

At the beginning of my sickness I had fainting spells and became unconscious. There was gas on my stomach, my appetite was very poor and what little I ate did not seem to be digested. I was sick at my stomach a great deal and had severe dizzy attacks. I had hot flashes when it would seem as though I was burning up. I could not sleep night or day during these spells unless I took something to ease the pain. I was very weak and was in this condition for six months. I could not do any work and was confined to bed for two or three days at a time.

"A doctor at Dorchester said I had gastric fever. He did not give me much help so I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills upon my mother's advice. I gave the pills a thorough trial and unlike the doctor's medicine, they agreed with me. I took several boxes of the pills and was entirely cured. I think so much of the pills that I always keep them in the house."

The tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills by building up the blood so that it can nourish and strengthen the weakened digestive system has made hundreds of cures in the most severe stomach disorders. This record of cures should merit a trial for the remedy which is guaranteed free from opiates.

A new edition of the booklet, "What to Eat and How to Eat," is free on request. Send a postal for it today and begin to cure yourself by following the directions it contains.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are on sale at all druggists, or they will be sent to any address by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Lowell people, particularly our merchants, always have their weather eye out for wonderful bargains, and very often are successful in finding large stocks of merchandise that mean a wonderful money saving for Lowell traders. Mr. James H. Kelley of O'Donnell Dry Goods Company has proved himself on many occasions to be one of the keenest bargains in the business. Only a short time ago, Mr. H. L. Smith of Norfolk street, Dorchester, who had been in the dry goods business, decided to retire and place his stock at the mercy of the purchaser who would give the most for it in a lump sum. Mr. Kelley here secured a great triumph in being able to purchase almost the entire stock of this big department house at a price that will give him a chance to create one of the biggest bargain sensations of the year at his store.

The goods are an immense lot consisting of dry goods and notions, ladies' furnishings, gloves, handkerchiefs, neckwear, underwear, etc. besides a very select lot of men's furnishings. These goods are arriving every day, and being unpacked and arranged in the basement of this big store so that they can be easily selected by the prospective buyers, and when the quality and the price are considered the sale will be a prize for the bargain hunters.

There have been many big sales in Lowell, and also by this particular firm but this will prove a record breaker. It certainly ought to, as the goods are first quality, and clean, and no shop worn stock is among them.

Mr. Kelley, the manager, has a little army of clerks in the basement unpacking, marking and arranging to get these goods ready for public inspection and purchase, so that there will be a hot time in the old town within a very short time, and it would be well for every prudent housekeeper to keep in mind this announcement which will appear at an early date in the Sun in a big display ad. A word to the wise should be sufficient. This sale will appeal more strongly to the bargain hunting patrons than any that has been announced in many months. Keep your eye out for the big ad, and then go down and make your raid on the bargain counters.

REGULAR 50c HALL & LYON CO.

REGULAR 50c Letherman of the postoffice department.

REGULAR 50c Following the raid at Lowell, Deputy Werts sent Inspector Gustafson, the Bertillon expert, there and he took finger impressions of the men and questioned them sharply. The police of the Spindler city photographed the suspects and when Gustafson returned to look over the rogues' gallery he unearthed important information concerning six of the men, who, he says, have criminal records.

REGULAR 50c The men under arrest, it is said, may be able to tell considerable about a score of postoffice robberies committed in this state and in towns of other New England states during a period covering more than two years. These men were always armed and resorted to violence at the slightest provocation.

REGULAR 50c A man who gave the name of George Howard at Lowell is known in police circles as "Detroit Goldie." Thomas Kelley is familiarly known to the authorities as John Davis, "Pete" Kelley and "Pete the Dude."

REGULAR 50c "Charles Hamilton was identified as "Hamilton Jack." In the Canadian provinces and in the vicinity of the Great Lakes the latter men are known to the police. One, who said that he was John Barry, has a picture in the rogues' gallery at Pemberton square.

REGULAR 50c "Chick" McCarthy and John McCarthy are names by which he is better known to the police here.

REGULAR 50c Walter White, otherwise known as Walter Stewart, has, the police say, operated extensively in the vicinity of Dover, N. H.

REGULAR 50c When the men were arrested in Lowell, burglars' tools and revolvers in their possession were seized. The greatest care was exercised in trapping them, as they were regarded as of the desperate type.

REGULAR 50c WESTERN ROADS TO ACCEPT INTERSTATE BOARD'S DECISION

REGULAR 50c CHICAGO, March 3.—The railroads running west of Chicago have decided to bow to the will of the Interstate commerce commission and to accept without appeal its decision denying them a general advance in commodity freight rates. At a meeting of the executive and freight traffic officers

REGULAR 50c of the roads, in continuation of the previous days' conferences it was decided to accept the decision as final and to file cancellations of the tariffs continuing the proposed advances with the Interstate commerce commission at Washington on Monday. This will be four days in advance of the date set by the commission in requesting the withdrawal of the tariffs by March 10 as an alternative to a formal order prescribing the present rates for two years.

REGULAR 50c MAKE YOUR OWN HAIR TONIC

REGULAR 50c A SPECIALIST'S ADVICE.

REGULAR 50c In a recent issue the New York Herald published a special article on the care of the hair. Dr. Charles J. B. Kelley, a specialist in hair diseases, gave the formula for a home-made hair tonic which was highly recommended for its remarkable hair-growing properties, as well as for stopping falling hair, revitalizing the hair roots, destroying the dandruff germ and restoring gray hair to its natural color. This article was of special interest to me, as the formula was one which I myself have prescribed in countless cases with most astonishing results. I remember one case in particular in which I prescribed it for a man who had been bald for many years and in less than two months after he began its use his hair was completely covered with a luxuriant growth of rich glossy hair, thus proving that hair can be made to grow on a bald head, notwithstanding the opinion of many persons to the contrary.

REGULAR 50c For the benefit of those who have not seen it before, I give the formula herewith: 6 ounces of Bay Rum, 2 ounces of Lavender de Ceylon, one-half ounce of Menthol Crystals, Dissolve the Crystals in the Bay Rum and then add the Lavender de Ceylon; shake thoroughly and apply night and morning to the roots of the hair, rubbing the scalp with the finger-tips. This preparation contains no coloring matter, but cures gray hair to its natural color by its effect on the hair roots. If you desire it perfumed, add one teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume, which combines perfectly with the other ingredients and imparts a most pleasing scent.

REGULAR 50c Before publication we presented this prescription to the Riker-Jaynes Drug Co., this city, and they state that they have filled it many times for their patrons who report most astonishing results from its use.

ST. RAILWAY BILL CIVIL SERVICE

Tie Vote Expected in Committee

List of Examinations to be Held

BOSTON, March 3.—After spending two hours mulling over the street railway trolley men's bill to give the men 9 hours in 11 for their day's work instead of 10 hours in 12, which is now their work day, the street railway and labor committees, sitting jointly, yesterday voted to report the bill by a vote of 10 to 9, but with five members to be polled.

The anticipation is that the committee will finally stand 12 to 12.

The vote of present status:

For the bill—Street railways, Hubbard, Parks, Kelly, Donnelly, Brockbridge, Daly, labor, Granger, Sylvester, Curtin, Sargent—10.

Against the bill—Street railways, Bennett, Currier, Hardy, Ellis, Hathaway, DeBenedictis, Crane, Kilpatrick, labor, Egan, McLaughlin, Keith, Lewin and Hathaway of New Bedford—9.

The advocates for the bill count upon the votes of Senator Ross and Representative Levin. Senators Melton and Keith will vote against the bill and Mr. Representative Hathaway of New Bedford should join them that would give the opposition 12.

Lowell people, particularly our merchants, always have their weather eye out for wonderful bargains, and very often are successful in finding large stocks of merchandise that mean a wonderful money saving for Lowell traders. Mr. James H. Kelley of O'Donnell Dry Goods Company has proved himself on many occasions to be one of the keenest bargains in the business. Only a short time ago, Mr. H. L. Smith of Norfolk street, Dorchester, who had been in the dry goods business, decided to retire and place his stock at the mercy of the purchaser who would give the most for it in a lump sum. Mr. Kelley here secured a great triumph in being able to purchase almost the entire stock of this big department house at a price that will give him a chance to create one of the biggest bargain sensations of the year at his store.

The goods are an immense lot consisting of dry goods and notions, ladies' furnishings, gloves, handkerchiefs, neckwear, underwear, etc. besides a very select lot of men's furnishings. These goods are arriving every day, and being unpacked and arranged in the basement of this big store so that they can be easily selected by the prospective buyers, and when the quality and the price are considered the sale will be a prize for the bargain hunters.

There have been many big sales in Lowell, and also by this particular firm but this will prove a record breaker. It certainly ought to, as the goods are first quality, and clean, and no shop worn stock is among them.

Mr. Kelley, the manager, has a little army of clerks in the basement unpacking, marking and arranging to get these goods ready for public inspection and purchase, so that there will be a hot time in the old town within a very short time, and it would be well for every prudent housekeeper to keep in mind this announcement which will appear at an early date in the Sun in a big display ad. A word to the wise should be sufficient. This sale will appeal more strongly to the bargain hunting patrons than any that has been announced in many months. Keep your eye out for the big ad, and then go down and make your raid on the bargain counters.

SUCTION SHUTTLE

Is Opposed by Rep. Harrington

At the state house yesterday Representative Edward P. Harrington spoke at the hearing on his own bill, which would prohibit the use of the suction shuttle. With a number of shuttles he showed the committee how the sucking is done and how the threading may be done by hand on another kind of shuttle. He said that in the ordinary course a weaver sucks the thread through an eye on the shuttle over 60 times an hour. This is dangerous both to the weaver and to the public. An instance was cited of a man who was consumptive; he secured employment in a mill and worked for eight different weavers, exposing them all to the disease with which he was afflicted. The speaker then exhibited a hand-threading shuttle and showed how to thread it.

$15 FINE IMPOSED

For the Illegal Use of a Transfer

The illegal use of transfers issued by conductors of the Boston & Northern Street Railway company has been prevalent of late and a source of annoyance to the officials of the company. People employed in the mills at North Chelmsford have been in the habit of leaving the car at Tower's corner and giving their transfers to friends who resided in other sections of the city.

The Boston & Northern has been trying for the past few weeks to catch one of the offenders and make an example of him and as a result, Thomas J. Mullin, aged 18 years, of Lundberg street was arraigned before Judge Hadley in the juvenile session of the police court this morning on a complaint charging him with unlawfully using a transfer ticket.

It was shown that a boy who works in one of the mills in North Chelmsford had been in the habit of securing a transfer and turning it over to Mullin. The court after quoting the law relative to the illegal use of transfers imposed a fine of $15 which was paid.

DRACUT

In mentioning the contests to be battled upon at the coming Dracut town meeting in yesterday's editions, two important offices were omitted, town treasurer and town auditor. In the former contest the present incumbent, James J. McManmon, was nominated unanimously by the democrats and is seeking his 14th term. Prior to serving as town treasurer, Mr. McManmon was selectman for two years. On several occasions he has been the nominee of both parties without opposition. This year Bernice Parker, is the choice of the republican caucus, but with Mr. McManmon's popularity and his fine record as an official there is but little doubt that he will succeed himself. In the contest for town auditor, Mr. Lawrence Brennan, the present incumbent, is the choice of the democrats while Nelson Huntley, is the nominee of the republicans.

Although in most cases party lines are strictly drawn in Dracut, two notable exceptions have been the town treasurer and town clerk. As was mentioned above Mr. McManmon has been treasurer for ten years while there have been only three town clerks in a generation, Gatton M. Hall, Charles E. McCarthy and the present incumbent, John J. Brennan. Messrs. Hall and McCarthy left office to remove from the town and Mr. Brennan has ably filled their shoes and will probably continue to do so for years to come.

PLACED IN JAIL SEEKS DIVORCE

Alienation is Charged Against Woman

BURLINGTON, Vt., March 3.—Mrs. Anna Yantz, a dressmaker about 30 years of age, is in jail on a writ in an alienation suit for $5000, brought by Mrs. Edison Isham, who alleges that Mrs. Yantz has stolen Mr. Isham's affections.

Mrs. Isham also charges that undue intimacy has existed between her husband and Mrs. Yantz. The bail in such cases is fixed at the amount stipulated in the suit but an effort will be made by the attorney for Mrs. Yantz to have the amount reduced to $1000.

Mr. Isham was formerly in business here, but sold out several months ago and went to Morrisville. The Ishams have not lived together for a number of weeks, it is said. Mrs. Isham claims that Mrs. Yantz has made frequent trips to Morrisville, where she is said to have posed as Mrs. Isham.

Mrs. Yantz is not on friendly terms with her own husband, Otto Yantz, who is now in Williston, and yesterday she filed a petition for a divorce in county court.

The two families formerly lived in Williston and it was there, according to Mrs. Yantz, that the friendship between Mr. Isham and herself began. Mrs. Yantz claims that she has been shadowed by a detective for three weeks. Mrs. Yantz has two children and the Ishams have one child.

Lowell Man Accuses His Brother

The divorce court in Cambridge, presided over by Judge Quinn, will close with the petition of George Gulknecht of Lowell, formerly of the German army, who married Julia Gulknecht at Lowell, Nov. 30, 1905. The case went over until this morning. A statutory offence is charged and his brother,

Adolph, is named as corespondent. The brother came from Germany in 1900 and went to live with the couple in this city. George became suspicious and having satisfied himself that things were not right, called in a private detective. After further observations he ordered both the brother and the wife from the house. George was testifying at adjournment.

Rufus E. Perkins, a traveling salesman of Medford, was granted a decree against Anna P. Perkins of Plymouth, N. H. The case was heard Wednesday, the husband alleging desertion and naming E. C. Buck as coming between him and his wife.

Marion Wilson of Lowell sought a divorce from Henry H. Wilson, also of Lowell, whom she married in 1891. She alleged desertion in 1906, while he contested, charging her with similar action. The case was taken under advisement.

The Ladies Aid society of the Wethers Street M. E. church held the regular monthly supper and entertainment in the vestry last evening. Supper was served under the supervision of Mrs. J. R. Smith, assisted by ten members of the society. At 8 o'clock the following musical numbers were given: Song, Mrs. E. L. Roberts; reading, Miss Mildred Tucker; duet, Mr. Hutchinson and Mr. Joseph Heathcock; song, Mr. Joseph Heathcock; sketch, Miss Tucker. The accompanists were Miss Bertha Bond and Miss George Wright and Mr. Heathcock had charge of the entertainment.

FIRST TRINITARIAN CHURCH
Mr. Alfred E. Stearns, principal of Phillips Academy, Andover, will speak on "The Church and School" at the Pleasant Sunday Afternoon Services in the First Trinitarian Congregational church on Sunday, at 4.30 o'clock. The address will be one of unusual interest, because of Mr. Stearns' peculiar fitness to speak upon the subject. Phillips Academy is one of the oldest and largest preparatory schools for boys. It has had an honorable history, and numbers now over six hundred boys. Mr. Stearns himself has brought the school to a high place in efficiency, and has gained a great reputation as an educator. He still keeps his interest in athletics, in which he was especially prominent at college, being pitcher of speak on "Playgrounds."

The Amherst college baseball team. The teachers and the boys and girls at school will be particularly interested in Mr. Stearns and his address. There will be a preliminary service for prayer and worship.

The speaker for March 13th is Mr. John W. Bengough, a Canadian reformer from Toronto, Ontario, who will give his famous "Economic Chalk Talk."

The speaker for March 19th is Mr. Charles Frederick Adams, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who will speak upon "The Best Values Plan of Commissioned Government for Cities."

TO FORTIFY CANAL

WASHINGTON, March 3.—An even score of weary-eyed senators faced Vice President Sherman when at 10 o'clock this forenoon he called the senate together. Adjournment had been taken at 4 a. m.

Among those present were Senators Hale and Stone. They greeted each other pleasantly and engaged in a brief chat before beginning the day's work. Mr. Hale was anxious to begin the consideration of the great sundry bill and to this end sought to have the formal reading of yesterday's journal dispensed with.

"I object," said the leader of yesterday's filibuster. Mr. Hale appealed to him, but apparently in vain.

"Won't the senator let us get this formality out of the way so that we can go on with the appropriations," he pleaded.

"I have no objection except that I think that we should have a quorum before we proceed with the question," responded the Missouri senator.

"Let the journal reading go on for the present."

"A few minutes later he relented, withdrew his objections and the further reading was dispensed with. Immediately the reading of the sundry bill was begun. It proved a formidable document of 246 pages and carrying $142,762,094.

"Do you think you are going to get all the appropriation bills through?" Mr. Hale was asked.

"We shall if they do not filibuster," he said, "but at this stage of the proceeding one senator could easily prevent success. There are four bills yet to be passed by the senate. They are the sundry bill, the postoffice, the naval and the general deficiency. They are the largest and most important of the supply measures and to get them through we shall be compelled to have an unobstructed right of way."

Mr. Stone was questioned along different lines.

"Is it all over," he was asked.

"One cannot well stand in the way of the appropriation bills," he replied, "but there is still much to do to get through."

"How about the agreement reached early this morning to vote on the tariff board bill tomorrow at 3.30 o'clock?"

"Well, you see a man cannot go on forever. But the bill was so amended that it will be necessary for the house to act on it again and the boys over there ought to be able to take care of it if they don't want it."

Senator Beveridge also was among the early arrivals. He was most hopeful over the prospect for the tariff bill and was most complacent under the felicitations of his friends over the success of his parliamentary tactics in getting the vote agreement.

After the reading of the sundry bill had proceeded about 40 minutes Mr. Stone requested an agreement to consider the Canadian reciprocity bill.

Noting the clerk's rapid reading of the sundry bill the Missouri senator asked the chairman of the committee on appropriations how long a time would be required to complete its consideration.

When Mr. Hale replied that he hoped to do so by noon, Mr. Stone said:

"I ask unanimous consent that at that time a vote be taken on the bill known as the Canadian reciprocity bill."

"O, O, Ha, Ha," responded Mr. Hale, apparently amused.

Stooping as were all the senators, most of them smiled audibly over the suggestion. Senator Gronna of North Dakota made formal objection.

"Then," said Mr. Stone, the captain of the filibustering band, "I give notice that I shall move consideration of the reciprocity bill."

"And I shall move that we take up the naval bill," said Senator Perkins, in charge of that measure.

The senate agreed to the house provision of $3,000,000 in the sundry bill for beginning the work of fortifying the Panama canal.

Senator Burton moved to strike out the paragraph but the motion was defeated on a viva voce vote.

The senate adopted an amendment offered by Senator Culberson, cutting down the house appropriation of $400,000 to continue the work of the temporary tariff board to $200,000 and making the amount available only for the fiscal year 1912.

As it came from the house, the appropriation was to continue available until 1913. Senator Culberson denounced this as a usurpation of the functions of the 62nd congress.

An amendment making certain appropriations for the permanent tariff board in the event of its establishment by law was ordered by Senator Cummins and adopted.

Senator Culberson offered an amendment directing the tariff board to report to congress not later than the first Monday in December, 1911, on the iron and steel, the cotton and cotton manufactures and the wool and woolen schedule.

On a yeas and nays vote it was defeated, 40 to 45. The insurgent republicans voted with the democrats in favor of the amendment.

THE FRIAR LANDS TODAY'S STOCK MARKET

Majority and Minority Reports Submitted by Committee

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Complete exoneration of the officers of the Philippine Islands government of all charges of irregularities or improprieties in connection with the administration, sales or leases of lands in the Philippines, but pointed criticisms of the inadequacy of the present laws to prevent monopolies in what are known as the "friar lands," are expressed in both the majority and minority reports of the house committee on insular affairs submitted to the house today.

The charge made on the floor of the house a year ago by Rep. Martin of Colorado that the so-called sugar trust had acquired 56,000 acres of friar lands led to an investigation of the entire question of the administration of public lands as well as friar lands.

Both reports concur in the opinion that the organic act of 1902 in limiting the individuals to forty acres and corporations to 2,500 acres in the amount of public lands that may be acquired does not impose the same restrictions on the disposition of the friar lands.

The majority report argues that as a practical expedient the friar lands should be disposed of in larger quantities to attract land owners, while the minority claim that the sale of the friar lands in large tracts may develop a system of absentee landlordism as obnoxious to the Philippines as the friars against whom they once rebelled.

The majority report suggests that a friendly proceeding begin in the courts by the officers of the Philippine government to determine the exact legal status of the friar lands with respect to public lands regulation.

As to the acquisition by E. L. Poole of 56,000 acres of the friar-lands on behalf of Horace Havemeyer, Charles J. Welch and Chas. N. Senff, both reports declare the public officers involved were not culpable, being guided by the best available interpretations of the law.

The majority members, however, deny that the land was obtained by the sugar trust while the minority assert that if the sugar trust did not acquire it "the next door neighbor to the sugar trust" did, and that there is apparent a "community of interest" evidencing a holding by one person of upward of 56,000 acres of land.

The minority accepts the situation as unavoidable, but holds the incident up as a warning against "further exploitation of the lands by American capitalists," and suggests that no more sales of large tracts of the friar lands be consummated pending the action of congress or the outcome of court proceedings that might be instituted by the Philippine officers.

The majority report was signed by Representative Oimstead of Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee, and Representatives Crumpacker of Indiana, Hamilton of Michigan, Fuller of Illinois, Graham of Pennsylvania, Parsons of New York, McKinlay of California, Douglas of Ohio, and Fornes of New York.

The minority report was submitted by Reps. Madison of Kansas, Hubbard of Iowa and Davis of Minnesota.

STOCK MARKET

WAS DULL AT THE CLOSING HOUR

TODAY

Trading in the Last Hour Marked By a Firm Undertone—Short Covering Gave the List a Moderate Rally

NEW YORK, March 3.—The market was feverishly active at the opening, gains and losses being distributed impartially through the list. U. S. Steel opened with a block of 4500 shares at 74 1/2 to 75 1/4, compared with yesterday's close of 75 1/4. Virginia Carolina Chemical lost a point, Lehigh Valley % and U. S. Rubber and Amn. Telephone & Telegraph 1/2 each. Erie gained 1/2, but the first pf. lost 1/4. Missouri Pacific advanced 1/4. St. Paul % and U. P. and Amal. Copper

A brisk demand for stocks at low prices caused the market to lose its uncertain tone and to move vigorously upward. The improvement was made more rapid by covering by bears who were disappointed at the failure of yesterday's decline to induce much outside liquidation. Advances were established of 1 to 1 1/2 in U. P., Canadian Pacific, Missouri Pac., Reading, Great Northern pf., Chesapeake & Ohio, Amal. Copper, and Amn. Smelting. The rise brought out some moderate realizing sales. Prices yielded slightly before the end of the first hour.

Conflicting reports from Washington as to the probability of an extra session of congress unsettled the stock market which was nervous during the session. After a vigorous demonstration of strength in the favorite stocks the market began to sag on fresh liquidation in New York Central and St. Paul, both of which fell below yesterday's low prices. Most of the midday market was cancelled. At trend again. The hour market was firm, the feature being heavy buying in American Tobacco fours, which advanced more than a point.

Several stocks showed considerable weakness but the general market was steady until 1 o'clock, when it yielded slightly. A new legal action by the government against the Sherman anti-trust law under the electrical companies started free selling of General Electric and it went down 3 points. Stocks were in demand again at the lower levels and there was a recovery in some instances to the best prices of the day. Trading, however, grew very dull as prices ascended.

The market closed dull. Trading in the last hour was almost the lightest of the session but was marked by a firm undertone. Best prices of the day were then reached by many issues and the trend of the list was toward moderate rally, attributable in part to short covering. The most notable exception was New York Central, which sold at lowest price of the present movement. Most gains were wiped out at the close.

ANOTHER ARREST

In Connection With Larcenies
at the Navy Yard

BOSTON, March 3.—Late yesterday afternoon another arrest was made in connection with the numerous thefts of naval supplies at the Navy Yard. Edward W. Davis, an inspector of materials, was taken into custody by Deputy United States Marshal Ruhl in the Federal building.

Davis, in the warrant, is accused of appropriating an adding machine worth $125 and some mileage books. But the officials say he also disposed of a chronometer and other instruments, all to the value of several hundred dollars. Davis was greatly affected when arraigned before the commissioner. "Can you furnish bail?" asked the commissioner. "No," replied Davis. "Then I shall have to commit you to jail unless you can produce some one to go surety for you." "Well," pleaded Davis, "I know of no one. My wife and child are at home in Wollaston, and there is no one to look out for them. I will promise to

AN APPEAL TO WIVES

No more terrible affliction can come to any home than the excessive use of intoxicants by husband or son. KILLED HERSELF

Daughter of Ex-Gov.
a Suicide

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—Disappointed because she did not receive $200 loaned to a friend during more prosperous days, Mrs. Josephine Quirles, 37 years old, a daughter of Davis H. Walte, former governor of Colorado, committed suicide last night by inhaling gas. Her body was found by her husband, Constantino Quirles, a Mexican.

Despondency over financial reverses is believed to have been the cause.

SUPREME COURT

Says That Ex-Mayor White Must Remain in Jail

BOSTON, March 3.—Ex-Mayor William P. White, convicted on a charge of conspiring to bribe members of the city council to vote for the removal of Chief Hamilton of the fire department, must serve his sentence in the house of correction, the full bench of the supreme court having overruled his exceptions yesterday.

The full court holds that there was evidence to warrant a finding that the defendant conspired with the persons who were engaged in the bribery to accomplish, if possible, the removal of Hamilton by that means.

The court also says there was no error in impanelling the jury. The defendant had contended that the district attorney should have exercised his right of challenging jurors before him and that by his failure to do so he lost it.

In this case the district attorney made two peremptory challenges after the defendant had exercised his prerogative and the latter excepted to the court's allowing such challenges at that time, claiming the challenge should have been made before the defendant exercised his right to object to any of the panel.

LOWELL, FRIDAY, MARCH 3, 1911.

Sirolin Prevents Consumption

This Famous Preparation
Keeps The System in Tone

Consumption is caused by carelessness. It is caused by the tubercle bacillus—or consumption germ—attacking the lungs when they are weakened by the effects of a cold, or when the general vitality is lowered.

Sirolin prevents consumption because—
It promptly dispels the most severe cold without leaving the lungs in a weakened condition.
It tones up the entire system, develops the appetite, and acts as an invigorating tonic.

It is different from the ordinary preparation for coughs and colds.
Sirolin has no depressing action; it contains no narcotics or other harmful ingredients.
It is the most successful remedy for influenza, bronchitis, colds, coughs, grippe, and other pulmonary affections in the whole field of medicine.

Sirolin is a clear, syrup-like liquid, pleasant to the taste. If your druggist has not yet got Sirolin, send $1.00 for a full-sized bottle. Send for our interesting Sirolin booklet.

STETSON DERBIES AND SOFT HATS FOR SPRING

CLEVER SELECTIONS AT THE SMART CLOTHES SHOP

Stetson Hats are not confined to any one store. Several stores in town sell them. There's only one advantage for you in buying at the Smart Clothes Shop. The shapes here are correct and smartly styled. They may be elsewhere, but you can depend on it here.

The Spring shapes in stiff and soft hats, though centering on a few styles, allow an opportunity for the expression of widely different tastes. In derbies, the low crown, wide brim which we featured last fall, is again the leader, while fuller crowns and more closely rolled brims are here for men of more conservative taste.

Soft hats show a tendency to brims with heavier curls, like the cut. The flat pencil curl brim, with the shallow crown, is still considered good.

STETSON DERBIES, $3.50.

SOFT HATS, $3.00.

OTHER MAKES, $2.00 and $3.00.

The United States senate has vindicated Lorimer. That is right. Senators who attained office by Lorimer's methods could not vote to put him out.

Very few people realize how strict is the law in regard to the use of transfers on the street cars. To use the transfer of another passenger is fully as bad in the eyes of the law as evading carfare.

The people of Centralville want a public park. That district is growing rapidly, and some suitable tract of land should be set apart for park purposes before all the waste land shall have been built upon or else have become so valuable that its price will be prohibitive.

We do not believe the bill now before the legislature to order the state board of health to stop the discharge of sewage into the Merrimack river will become law. The time has not yet arrived when cities along the Merrimack should be compelled to change their systems of drainage.

THE CONTAGIOUS HOSPITAL

It is time to inquire what the contagious hospital commission is doing. A certain sum was appropriated for plans, and it will soon be time to hear a report of some kind. It is hoped the hospital question will not be held up like the public hall matter.

TO SAVE THE WHITE MOUNTAINS

President Taft has signed the Appalachian-White mountain bill, and now the agencies that have been working for this conservation law for years rejoice. That will save the Crawford Notch and other parts of the White mountains threatened with destruction. The work of stopping the destruction of the forests by natural and artificial means will soon be started.

FOR AN AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL

We notice that the Farmers' Institute, held at Tyngsboro, discussed the matter of a different line of training for boys. Commissioner Snedden of the state board of education gave a very instructive talk and pointed out the advantages to be derived from an agricultural school. The farmers would like to have such a school located near Lowell.

With the opportunities that an agricultural school could give an impetus would be given to farming in this locality and many of the graduates could enter upon farming hereabouts on a large scale.

OUR SANITARY CONDITIONS

The visit of a delegation of Lawrence officials to this city for the purpose of investigating sanitary methods indicates a desire to improve conditions in that city. The health methods adopted for the protection of the tenement districts were the subject of special inquiry. In this direction Lowell has not done very much beyond cleaning up the back alleys and insisting that no rubbish shall be dumped in alleys or yards. With the coming of spring there will be more work of this kind necessary for the protection of the public health. Every winter leaves a coating of dirt and dust that will have to be cleared away. The street department will have plenty on its hands, and upon the thoroughness of its work will depend whether we shall be free from outbreaks of disease. The board of health should prepare for a general spring cleaning superior to anything done in the past.

THE PAROLE BOARD

The bill before the legislature to establish a new commission to be known as a board of parole, the function of which will be to parole prisoners having served one-third of their sentence and obeyed the prison rules, except for the crime of murder in the first degree, arson and a few other heinous crimes. The law calls for the appointment of parole officers at a salary of $1500 with traveling expenses. We have too many commissions at present and too many of these traveling agents at the government expense. The enactment of such a law would deprive all the legal penalties provided, except in capital cases, of their terror and deterrent effect because nearly every prisoner sentenced would look to the parole board for freedom. It is useless to maintain the courts for the administration of justice if we establish another body such as that proposed to nullify the action of the courts by cutting down the sentences.

THE FARMERS AND RECIPROCITY

The farmers around Lowell are opposed to reciprocity. They like high prices for their produce as well as any other class. The reciprocity measure is directed at the trusts and the cold storage concerns, not at the farmers. We do not believe the farmers will suffer very much by the passage of the reciprocity bill except on a few items such as eggs.

Few of the farmers, it seems, availed themselves of all the opportunities that came to their doors during the reign of high prices. If they had they could have made great profits on poultry, on raising cattle and hogs. There is no reason why a farmer could not make large profits on his investment if he adopts progressive methods and endeavors to supply the public demand for eggs, beef, pork, milk, butter, fruit and vegetables. There may be a slight change in prices under reciprocity which is bound to come; but the farmer will find that if prices of farm products come down he will be compensated in the reduction in the price of other things he will have to buy.

SEEN AND HEARD

The Strand magazine for March contains an interesting and exhaustive article on the Associated Press and gives in detail many astounding facts as to how the news of the world is gathered. Mr. Melville E. Stone, the general manager, declares that the "A. P." is writing the history of all nations through its dispatches.

Peoples who are markedly broad-headed are more or less flattened at the back of the head, writes Professor C. H. Hawes in the March Wide World magazine. Some of the flattest-headed people in the world are found among the Armenians and the tribesmen in the highlands of Asia Minor; and we know that some of them practice the custom of bandaging the babies' heads in order to get them the approved shape.

Knowing this, I was anxious to find out if the same cause had not produced a similar result in Crete. If we omit the better-educated people in the towns and in one village in the mountains, all Cretan mothers bind the heads of their children when they are in order to make them of a nice round form. In fact, when I was pressing home my questions in order to make quite sure of the object the mothers had in view, one of them told me that I had a "very bad head" and that my bumps and ridges ought to have been smoothed away in my infancy. Yet after a fairly exhaustive inquiry, I came to the conclusion that the bandaging in Crete is never tight and lasts for so short a time that nothing is effected. In cases of deformation at birth, however, the accompanying massage probably restores the normal condition more quickly.

If, however, there are no marked results from the head-bandaging, it is otherwise with the custom of swaddling. It seems curious and even cruel to us to see a baby bound tight, hand and foot, and when it cries it is obvious that it is because of the awful discomfort of the prisoned feeling. Cretan mothers, however, cannot understand how we can allow the baby to be restless and uncomfortable. "Tightly swaddled, they say, the child lies still and contented, never able to overheat itself in hot weather by kicking and throwing its arms about, and in winter equally unable to throw off the clothes and so expose itself. What ever we may think of swaddling, it appears to accomplish one thing—the prevention of bandages. One never sees a bandy-legged Cretan.

The raindrops come a-splashing!
Along the window pane,
But there ain't a soul a-carin'!
For the rain, rain, rain,
There ain't a bird a-singin'!
Not a mockbird sends its call,
But if they were, a-singin'
Then your voice would drown 'em all.If clouds are hangin' purple,
Shinin' and a-singin' sun,
There's not a soul a-carin'!
For old trouble's on the run;
An' we know the sun is waitin'!
To bathe all the world with gold,
An' today's the baby's birthday
An' the baby's five years old!So, sister, get the pencil
And fetch the baby here—
Right here beside the doorway
Whilst we add another year;
She is full two inches taller
Than she was a year ago—
Is that the rain against the window?
Let it blow, blow, blow.She is just a little taller
Since she donned this added year,
Just a tiny little taller
But a thousand times as dear
So what if the day is stormy,
Since our little baby's here,
For our little bit o' baby
Has put on another year.So come and love your daddy,
Save a love for mother, too,
And sister has five kisses
For the world and you,
And let the day be rainy—
It's good to be alive
And have a little baby
That has just turned five!
—Judd Morimer Lewis, in Houston Post.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

At the annual meeting of the British Royal Humane society, the other day, it was announced that the Stanhope gold medal for 1910 had been awarded to Frank Fraser, chief engineer of the steam trawler Doniside, of Aberdeen, who thus attains the distinction of being recognized as the "bravest man of the year." The deed of gallantry performed by Mr. Fraser is thus described: Shortly after midnight on Aug. 27th, the Doniside, while on the Viking bank, some 225 miles northeast by east of Aberdeen, the night being pitch dark and the weather rough. Although there was a heavy sea running the captain decided to shoot the trawl, and when he thought all was clear shouted to let go, but, unfortunately, John Fraser, a deck hand, was carried overboard. Hearing the cry, "Man overboard," the chief engineer, Frank Fraser, rushed up from below, and, at once plunging after him succeeded in reaching the man, who was his own brother, both then drifting astern.

Several record prices for stamps were paid at the sale of the collection of U. S. stamps forming part of the collection of John R. Stanton, a copper mining expert of New York city. The collection is valued at about $30,000.

An uncancelled five-cent St. Louis postmaster provisional issue of 1846 on grayish paper brought $350, and a cancelled five-cent issue of 1845 on greenish paper $101. A two-cent blue Annapolis, with no trace of cancellation, went for $240, and an unused five-cent red Kittanning, Pa., letter sheet for $25.

Of the general issues, a used 15-cent brown and blue issue of 1869, with the picture inverted, brought the highest price, $235, and it was closely followed by the two-cent carmine and black of 1901, with contra inverted, which realized $200.50. A 24-cent green and violet issue of 1889, picture inverted, used copy, fetched $180. A 24-cent blue, unused issue of 1881-86, sold for $142; a cancelled 30-cent orange of the same issue $105, and an unused 90-cent blue, also of the same issue, $188.

Among the other specimens of the general issues were a strip of three of the ten-cent black of 1847, cancelled in red, $45.50; right diagonal half of the 12-cent of 1851-52, used as six-cent, on entire original envelope, $27; three-cent red of 1861, August issue, unused, $21; a 24-cent green and violet, issue of 1869, picture inverted, used copy, $180; 30-cent blue and carmine of 1869, without grill, mint block of four, $90; a four-cent blue of 1892, error in the color, unused copy, $38; six-cent brown of 1895, with watermark "U. S. I. R.", used copy, $60. Among the stamps issued for the use of the various departments at Washington, a strip of five 320-State brought $205. The Carrier stamps included a fine copy of the three-cent New York, 1842, on original cover, and cancelled in red, New York, December 24, 2c, showing that it was used as a two-cent stamp, $85; a block of twelve three-cent blue, issue of 1842, unused, $230, and a one-cent black envelope stamp of Philadelphia, 1851, $100.

The special "extension and endowment fund" secured by Johns Hopkins university within the past year amounted to about $1,200,000. Of this sum the trustees of the university contributed $240,000, the alumni about $300,000 and the people of Baltimore about $400,000.

FATALLY HURT

Auto Run Into by a Trolley Car

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 3.—Two of the three occupants of a taxicab, Miss May Burns and F. H. Walton of Cheshire, were fatally injured last night when their cab was run into by a trolley car and broken to pieces. The third occupant of the car, Miss Kate Roche, was seriously injured; the chauffeur, Charles Saxon, was cut about the head and the motorman of the trolley car sustained slight scalp wounds. The cab was running along Water street when the car came around a corner and crashed into it. The cab was overturned and the occupants were caught in the wreckage. Miss Burns skull was fractured, internal injuries inflicted. Walton has five ribs broken and internal injuries.

were first given to the public upon the completion of the Goodyear Welt system of shoemaking machines. These machines, which represent the thoughts and life work of the world's greatest inventor, were brought to a high state of efficiency immediately after The United Shoe Machinery Company succeeded in bringing together and combining the best of a large number of machines into the sixty which now make a shoe from beginning to end.

GOODYEAR WELT

Goodyear Welt Shoes are superior in all those qualities which make shoes desirable. The plan of their construction insures solidity, comfort and grace. From the first step to the last each shoe receives the same treatment as if made by hand—every movement of the old-time shoemaker is mechanically reproduced. There is an evenness of stitch and trimming that strictly hand work cannot attain—a symmetrical conformation that measures perfection. There is a shape for every foot—a style for every fancy—a kink for every whim. No matter how fresh a last may be, Goodyear Welt machines will build a shoe around it and endow it with class and durability. If you have never worn Goodyear Welt Shoes you have a luxury in store for you that will not cost you a penny extra. You will encounter a new and delightful foot-cure.

There are fully 500 different names of shoes made by this process. All are good—all are dependable. Some are sold by leading retailers in every town. But to make sure of getting them, send for the list of Goodyear Welta before you buy another pair of shoes. Thus you make sure of getting great durability, style and comfort at an economical price. Your name and address brings this important information. Two other booklets will also be sent you. One describes the sixty machines and their work. The other is "The Secret of The Shoe—An Industry Transformed." Both are interesting, both are free. Send them.

GOING TO MARRY

Miss Morrell Tells of Plans in Unique Way

GARDNER, Me., March 3.—Miss Dora May Morrell of 57 Belvidere street, Boston, in a letter published in a local newspaper yesterday, publicly announces, in a unique way, her approaching marriage, much to the surprise of her many friends here.

"I am to have a new home, a real one, not one where trunks are piled up and furniture set up for a little while, but a real place to live in as you happy folk in Gardner do in your houses."

"I am to be married on March 17, unless death prevents, and the next real home will be in Baltimore. I am to marry Mr. Henry Ellis Hughes, and I shall not say anything about him because 'actions speak louder' than words and mine are speaking for me, as I have never had the marrying habit very strong, and the only bit of caution I have ever had in life has kept me from daring to start to walk in the dark over a path I could not know. I never like to go where I cannot get out."

"However, now I am willing to trust, and do not believe it is well for women to live alone, whether it is for man or not. Probably I shall now become an active member of the matchmakers' association. It is better for a man or woman to have the two-sided rather than the one-sided outlook on life. I have always been associated very much with men, and so I know how valuable the training is that the masculine outlook on life and events gives a woman, and how broadening it is for her mind, which is more likely to be narrow."

hear from you, you will know that I have not received word from you. I have known individuals who did not acknowledge their wedding remembrances, but I am not one of that kind.

"Any friend who cares about me enough to come to my wedding at the church is invited to do so. I doubt if it will be worth while to be there, as the marriage in a spectacular sense won't be very striking. The Waltham cars, also the Newton and Brighton lines pass the church door, and there are several other lines that leave one within two minutes' walk of the church. I believe there will be some opportunity to greet the friends who are present, though no formal reception."

COFFEE PARTY

HELD AT THE GRACE UNIVERSALIST CHURCH

The vestries of the Grace Universalist church were the scene of a pretty gathering last night when the regular monthly coffee party of the church was held. The attendance was very large and a general good time was enjoyed throughout the evening.

A delicious supper was served to several hundred guests and a delightful entertainment consisting in the main of two clever sketches given by capable amateurs, and supplemented by readings and other numbers, was presented.

The first sketch was entitled "A Backward Child," and was presented by Master Raymond Wilde and Miss Eva Pickles. The second sketch was "She Came Back to Life," given by Miss Maybelle M. Molloy, Mrs. T. E. Wilde, Henry W. Leavitt and Clifford M. Grant.

There were also several interesting readings given by Miss Condon, a promising young reader. Mrs. Thomas E. Wilde had general charge of the entertainment program, and Miss Eva Pickles had general charge of the dining room, and also accompanied on the piano.

MANY CHANGES

In the Handling of Dynamite Recommended

BOSTON, March 3.—Changes in the method of handling dynamite and powder in Boston are recommended in a report made to the mayor last night by the maritime affairs committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, as the result of an investigation following the recent explosion in New York city.

The committee found that the explosives have been usually carried down Atlantic avenue in the heart of the business section, taken by hand over slippery landing bridges to a gasoline launch and then conveyed to bulkheads of the harbor located within half a mile of a thickly populated part of South Boston. One occasion is instanced in which a horse started off alone down Atlantic avenue with a load of dynamite, the driver and guard being otherwise engaged.

The committee disapproves of the explosives being taken through Atlantic avenue, advises that a steam launch properly arranged be substituted for the gasoline launch, and wants a change in location of the storage hulks.

FINANCE BOARD

To Investigate Appointment of Assessors

BOSTON, March 3.—The finance commissioners are preparing to present at a public hearing to be held during the coming week the influences which an investigation has revealed to Attorney M. J. Sugrue and Assistant Attorney Dowling of the commission had been brought to bear in the appointment of certain persons as first assistant assessors and the dropping out of others.

It was rumored at city hall yesterday that notice had already been given to Jeremiah J. McCarthy, surveyor of the port, and to Senator Timothy of Ward 18 that summonses have been prepared for them to appear at the hearing.

It was stated that they will be questioned in regard to the appointment of William H. Oakes of Charlestown and John J. Butler of Ward 18, both of whom were appointed on the board of first assistants. It is also the intention of the commission to call Councilor James M. Curley of Ward 17 before the commission at the same hearing provided he can leave the hospital.

ROLAND G. GARROS

REACHED DISTANCE OF 12,052 FEET ABOVE SEA LEVEL.

MEXICO CITY, March 3.—Roland G. Garros, flying a monoplane, reached a height of 4755 feet above the valley of Mexico yesterday. The altitude here is 7294 feet, which gave him an altitude above sea level of 12,052 feet. He carried a barograph authorized by the Aero club of France. His weight, 130 pounds, was a determining factor of the flight. He was in competition for altitude with Rene Barlier and Rene Simon for a cup offered by the Mexican Herald. This is said to be the greatest altitude ever attained in an aeroplane above sea level.

PARK ASSESSMENTS

METROPOLITAN EXPENSE IS UP. HELD BY THE COURT

BOSTON, March 3.—Judge Hammond of the supreme court yesterday afternoon overruled all objections made by Boston, Cambridge, Melrose, Hyde Park, Belmont and Wakefield to the apportionment made by commissioners appointed by the court for the cost of the maintenance of the Metropolitan park system for a period of five years beginning July 1 next.

The judge said: "I have considerable doubt as to the right of the commissioners to make separate assessments of such part of the expense of the Charles river basin as is to be assessed upon by the cities and towns of the Metropolitan districts, but have thought the best course in the present state of the case is to accept the award made by the commissioners."

PITTSFIELD, March 3.—Mrs. Mary E. Barber was arrested yesterday afternoon on a warrant sworn out by Stephen W. Follette of Adams charging polygamy.

Follette alleges he married the woman in Worcester, March 10, 1910. She claimed to be a widow, he charges. She is native of Greenfield, where she lived until she married George M. Barber, a Pittsfield contractor, it is said.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

A well attended meeting of Elgin lodge, N. E. O. P., was held last night. A considerable routine business was transacted during the evening. At the conclusion of the regular meeting, contests were held, the women being obliged to drive nails and the men to thread needles.

Miss Addie Soper proved the most expert in the contest for ladies and won the first prize, while Mrs. Elta Dowson triumphed in the consolation trophy. Albert Myers captured the first prize for the men, while Fred Timmins took the consolation.

Women's Relief Corps
The regular meeting of James A. Garfield W. R. C. was held last evening at Post 120 hall, with the president, Mary Orlut, presiding. GRAND RECITAL

In Aid of the Playground Movement

A recital of more than usual brilliancy, in aid of the playgrounds for children, was given by Mr. Marshall Darrach before a large and appreciative audience last night in Colonial hall. "The Tempest" was very finely given. Mr. Darrach's motions are finished, his speaking his thorough study as well as his dramatic talent.

Mr. Darrach previous to his reading of the parts, explained the scenes. It requires more than ordinary ability to change from one character to another, especially so when each character is decidedly different. Mr. Darrach was at his best in his portrayal of Caliban, the wicked monster. The scene with Caliban, Trinculo, the jester, and Stephano, the drunken butler, was the source of much merriment.

Living and breathing on the stage were grave Prospero, seeming above humanity with his deep lore and magic wand; Miranda, sweet and full of simplicity; Ariel, an airy, delicate spirit, and Ferdinand, the king's son, mystified and wondering, yet brave in spite of all.

Worthy of special mention is the beautiful speech of Prospero, as vested in his magic robes near the closing of the drama, he says his farewell cantation to the spirit. By many this speech is considered as Shakespeare's farewell to his dramatic work, for it not the last play this is one of the very best written by this master of drama. The playground committee deserves commendation for securing such a treat to Lowell. The next one will be given on "Julius Caesar," a tragedy which will call into full play all of Mr. Darrach's genius. The recital will begin at 8 to make it more convenient for those attending.

The playground committee comprises the following ladies: Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, Mrs. Sidney Fleet, Miss Louise Hall, Miss Mabel Metcalf, Miss Winifred Haggerty, Mrs. Haven Hill, Miss Addie Merrill and Miss Alice Owens.

The ushers of the evening were Miss Louise Hall, Miss Addie Merrill, Miss Sidney R. Fleet, Miss Mabel Metcalf, Miss Agnes Bailey, Miss Mary Kelly, Miss Mary Robinson, Mrs. Winslow Clark, Miss Louise Smith, Miss Winifred Nelson and Miss Winifred Haggerty.

THE PEOPLE'S CLUB

An interesting lecture on "A Royal Round From Ocean to Ocean" was delivered by Ira F. Harris of Nashua in the free course under the auspices of the People's club in the Runnels building last night. The lecture was illustrated with stereoscopic views taken in different lands. Mr. Harris has been a traveler for a number of years and his careful selection of scenes of the beaten paths was much admired. His ability to set forth in a few words a word painting of each scene enhanced last night's lecture. The attendance was large.

HOW TO TREAT THE SKIN

Many skin diseases like eczema are due to an external cause and are not the result of impure blood. The taking of internal medicines is a waste of time and money, as many sufferers can testify. The simplest and safest remedy is Cadum, the new medical compound. It stops the itching at once, and the healing begins immediately. People who have suffered for years and who have tried everything should take fresh courage, for this new compound is different from anything else. It is for sores, psoriasis, ulcers, ringworm, rash, pimples, scaly skin, sears, eruptions, blotches, itch, etc. 10c and 25c per box at all druggists.

BETTER SERVICE

B. & N. Officials Hear Petitioners

The residents of Pawtucketville who have been complaining of late of the poor car service in the Moody street district feel confident that the matter will be adjusted by the officials of the Boston & Northern.

The committee recently appointed by the Pawtucketville Social club to interview the officials of the street railway company, conferred with Messrs. Thomas Lee and H. E. Farrington of the latter company yesterday. The men were received in a courteous manner by the representatives of the company and were heard with deep interest. They asked for a 15 minute service and a larger car on the early morning trip.

The members of the committee were assured that their wants would be given consideration and that the difficulties arising between the company and the residents of the Pawtucketville district would be adjusted in a very short time.

The members of the committee were the following: W. W. Thibodeau, Horatio March, Councilman Arthur Genest, Louis P. Turcotte, Wilfred L. L'Esperance, Joseph Harvey, ex-officio.

$39,000 VERDICT

Set Aside by the Full Bench

BOSTON, March 3.—A verdict that gave Louis S. Chase and others $39,000 damages for the death of Mrs. Chase, killed in an automobile smashup on a grade crossing at Brookfield by a train on the New York Central railroad, was overruled yesterday by the full bench of the supreme court, which holds the plaintiff not entitled to judgment because the automobile was not legally registered and was consequently upon the highway unlawfully.

The auto had been registered, but was sold four days before the accident and the court held that the sale invalidated the registration, which had not been renewed by the new owner.

THE EXCEPTIONS

WAIVED BY COUNSEL IN THE KELLY CASE

The exceptions in the case of Leach, executrix against Green et als, have been waived by the counsel for the respondents and the notes against the Kelly estate together with the papers have been turned over to Mrs. Leach. This was done as a result of a decision made by Judge Hitchcock after a hearing in the equity merit session of the superior court.

SAM WALTER FOSS CLUB

A well attended and interesting meeting of the Sam Walter Foss Literary club was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. S. Smith at 22 Hadley street. Mrs. A. J. Foss occupied the chair in the absence of the president.

Reference was made of the death of Mr. Foss and sorrow was expressed. A page in the records was dedicated to his memory and a short sketch of his life is to be placed on the page.

Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Harry Cady were the hostesses for the afternoon. Mrs. Cady had charge of the literary program and the following excellent numbers were given. Piano duet, Miss Alice Smith and Miss Flossie Hunter; violin solo, Miss Mary Smith; song, Miss Ethel Wotton; paper on Norway, Mrs. H. T. Ferrell; trombone solo, Mrs. Bessie Kiser; paper on "Characteristics of Norwegians," Mrs. A. J. Foss; violin solo, Miss Mary Smith; paper on women of Norway, Mrs. C. E. Doty; trombone solo, Miss Read; reading, "A Leak in the Dyke," Mrs. Varney; song, Miss Ethel Wotton. Miss Alice Smith was accompanist of the afternoon. The hostesses served a dainty luncheon and were assisted by Mrs. Fred Smith, Misses Bessie Kiser, Marie Richardson, Marlon Smith and Alice Smith. The next meeting will be March 16 with Mrs. Upham, No. 112 Princeton street.

THE SCHECHITA

METHOD OF SLAUGHTERING ANIMALS BY JEWS DEFENDED

BOSTON, March 3.—The Schechita, or method of slaughtering animals employed by the Jews, was defended before the committee on public health of the Massachusetts legislature at the state house yesterday by several rabbis and others of the faith, in opposition to a bill offered by President Francis H. Rowley of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The bill was for the enactment of a law requiring the "effective stunning or deprivation or senses" of animals before being slaughtered, which would forbid the kosher process employed by the Hebrew people in observance of their religious tenets.

Dr. Rowley contended that the kosher process was attended by a degree of cruelty which should be eliminated.

Jacob D. Haas, representing the Jews, declared the methods employed by his people were most humane and had never been forbidden in any country except Switzerland, where the Jews were too few to meet the issue. Rabbi M. M. Eichler declared the measure the most rabid anti-semitic legislation he had ever known, while Dr. Louis Arkin argued that the keen knife used in the kosher process drew blood from the brain and thus made the method most humane.

A REORGANIZATION OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY IN PENNSYLVANIA

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 3.—A complete reorganization of the democratic party in this state was decided upon by the state committee of that party here last night when the request of the democratic congressional delegation from this state was adopted by a vote of 40 to 30. Members of the regular party organization say that the plan which contemplates the selection of new state officers and a new national committeeman cannot be carried out under the present party rules.

Rev. J. A. Bowler

A FORMER LOWELL PASTOR, IS DEAD

Rev. John Atwood Bowler, a former Lowell pastor, died at his home in Springfield, on Tuesday, at the age of 58 years, after a brief illness. He had been a Methodist minister for more than 30 years.

Dr. Bowler was well known in the lecture field through chalk-talk addresses at camp meetings and before Young Men's Christian associations.

He was born in Waterford, the son of Rev. George Bowler, a well-known Methodist minister, who was known as "the fighting parson" during the Civil war, and who was a colonel in the Forty-sixth Massachusetts Volunteers. John Atwood Bowler was educated in the public schools of Waterford and at Wesleyan university, from which he was graduated in 1877. For about three years he was engaged in photography and then entered the ministry, receiving an appointment from the Methodist conference of New Hampshire.

He held several pastorates in New Hampshire until 1888, when the general conference made the Lowell church, of which he was the pastor, a member of the New England conference. Dr. Bowler had since presided over churches in Lowell, Bondsville, Saxtonville and Warren. About a year ago he was appointed evangelist by the New England conference. He made himself well known by "chalk talks" for the sterling camp meetings and other bodies. He leaves a wife and two children, Bertram B. and Miss

Vote on the Measure Will be Taken Tomorrow

Agreement Was Reached in the Senate This Morning—Democratic Senators Bitter When Senator Stone Was Taken From the Floor

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Order out of chaos was brought at 3:05 o'clock this morning, when the senate, after listening to many hours of filibustering, reached an agreement that at 3:30 o'clock Saturday morning a vote would be taken on a bill to create a permanent tariff board. What had been supposed to be the death knell for this measure had been sounded several hours before. The senate at 1 o'clock adjourned until 10 o'clock to-day.

Unfamiliarity with the rules of the senate on the part of men who were engineering the obstructive tactics was responsible for the crumbling of the opposition. Senator Stone, confident of his ability to hold the floor for the night, had permitted the coteries of long distance talkers who were to succeed him today, to go to their homes. Learning that fact, Senator Beveridge invoked rule 19 to take Senator Stone from the floor. Under this rule "no senator shall speak more than twice on a subject of debate on the same day without leave of the senate."

Senator Stone had spoken early in the day on the tariff board bill. He spoke again at the night session. During his latter speech he moved to proceed with the sundry civil bill which had the effect of taking him from the floor pending the disposition of that motion. The motion was defeated and immediately upon his attempting to resume his speech, Senator Beveridge made the point of order that Mr. Stone already had spoken twice.

Vice-President Sherman was inclined not to provoke a controversy and at once asked Mr. Stone if he had spoken twice. Mr. Stone would neither deny nor affirm the statement but declared that he could not remember. Thereupon the vice-president called upon the official stenographers and it was found that their notes verified Mr. Beveridge's point. Mr. Sherman suspended the point, which deprived Mr. Stone of the floor.

It was just 2 o'clock when Mr. Stone was compelled to take his seat. Senator Overman essayed to fill his shoes but was not equipped for a long speech and an hour later the agreement was made fixing the time for a vote. At the request of several senators the agreement included the taking up of the naval appropriation bill but after that had been considered for a little less than an hour, Mr. Stone forced an adjournment. He made a point of no quorum and as so many senators had gone home after getting the tariff board bill out of the way it was impossible to muster enough senators to remain in session. An adjournment was therefore ordered until 10 a. m.

Considerable bitterness was exhibited by democratic senators when Mr. Stone was taken from the floor. The Missouri senator, himself, protested loudly that the record of his previous speeches should be read so that the senate might judge whether he had exhausted his right under the rules to speak on the tariff board bill. The vice-president declined to read these speeches and called Mr. Stone to order when he declared the ruling of the chair to be arbitrary and unjust.

Mr. Stone, repeating the charge, sat down. Not having any speakers present who would be able to hold the floor for the remainder of the night and during the following forenoon, Senator Stone was a willing listener to a suggestion which came a short time later from Senator Carter of Montana. It was proposed by Mr. Carter that a time be fixed on Saturday for a vote on the tariff board bill so that all of today and tonight could be devoted to the consideration of appropriation bills and bills on the calendar. Senator Carter said that it was the duty of the members to enact the appropriation bills and he declared that the democrats would not be justified in forcing the supply bills into an extra session. He pointed out that on two occasions within the memory of some of the members present the democrats had enacted appropriation bills to cover the expenses of the government for a period in which a republican administration was in control. This statement was in response to an assertion by Senator Stone that appropriation bills should be turned over to the new democratic congress.

Just as everyone began to breathe freely in the confidence that approval was to be accepted, Senator Heyburn objected to any unanimous consent agreement which had "a string he complained was a tacit understanding that in the event of the adoption of the tariff board bill, the democrats should be taken immediately, that the exhausted senate could get some rest. Mr. Heyburn said that he would not consent to the fixing of a time for a vote unless the senate proceeded immediately to the consideration of appropriation bills.

Immediately a group of senators surrounded Mr. Heyburn and pleaded with him to relent. Mr. Stone displayed some anger because of the objection and he, too, had to be pacified. Senator Carter finally suggested that a compromise might be made by inserting in the agreement a rule to proceed with the naval appropriation bill. Senator Stone accepted this because he believed it could be gotten out of the way in half an hour.

The naval bill took more time than was anticipated and after nearly an hour had been devoted to it Mr. Stone protested that it was evident that it could not be finished without keeping the senate too long and he moved an adjournment.

The motion was rejected, whereupon he raised the point of no quorum. Rather than rout tired senators from their beds, Senator Perkins moved to adjourn.

The postoffice appropriation bill, which was considered early in the evening, was not finished.

COL. BENSON

HAS A CHIMPANZEE THAT UNDERSTANDS GERMAN

BOSTON, March 3.—An educated chimpanzee, which eats at table, uses a knife and fork and occupied yesterday all by himself arrived here yesterday on the Leyland liner Devonian from Liverpool. The chimpanzee suffered from seasickness as the weather was extremely rough.

Col. John T. Benson, who left here several weeks ago to study zoology in Germany, picked up the animal in Hamburg. It is of the centrona species of West African chimpanzee, a very rare animal.

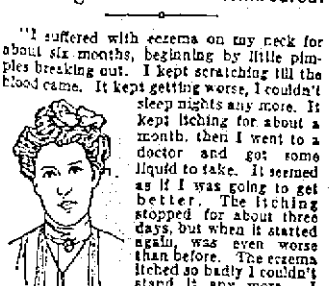

It is two years old, trained by the best monkey trainer in Germany and understands German perfectly, so that it was necessary to engage a German attendant, Mr. Schuster, to accompany the monkey to Boston.

Col. Benson said that just before sailing from Liverpool a dinner was given at the hotel Adelphi, at which the chimpanzee was an invited guest. Col. Benson said that Mayor Hutchinson of Liverpool, who attended the function, christened the animal John Willey.

Two boys, one an Armenian and the other a Hebrew, who came over on the steamer, accompanied by their parents, were held for examination by the immigration doctors. The Devonian brought in 2500 tons of general cargo.

ECZEMA ITCHED SO I COULDN'T STAND IT

Began by Little Pimples. Scratched Until Blood Came. Kept Getting Worse. Could Not Sleep Nights. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and the First Day They Relieved Itching. In 3 Weeks Eczema Cured.

"I suffered with eczema on my neck for about six months, beginning by little pimples breaking out. I kept scratching till the blood came. It kept getting worse, I couldn't sleep nights any more. I kept itching for about a month, then I went to a doctor and he said I was going to get better. The itching stopped for about three days, but when it started again, was even worse than before. The eczema itched so badly I couldn't stand it any more. I went to a doctor and he gave me some medicine, but didn't do any good. We have been having Cuticura Remedies in the house so I decided to try them. I had been using Cuticura Soap, so I got me a box of Cuticura Ointment, and washed off the affected part with Cuticura Soap three times a day, and then put it on. It relieved me of itching so I could sleep all that night. It took about a week, then I could see the scab come off. I kept the treatment up for three weeks, and my eczema was cured."

"My brother got his face burned with gunpowder, and he used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The people all thought he would have scars, but you can't see that he ever had his face burned. It was simply awful to look at before the Cuticura Remedies (Soap and Ointment) cured it. I have recommended them to a lot of my friends." (Signed) Miss Elizabeth Gehlert, Portland City, Me., Oct. 16, 1910.

Cuticura Soap (24¢) and Cuticura Ointment (36¢) are sold throughout the world. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., sole props., Boston, Mass., for free book on the skin.

ANNUAL MEETING

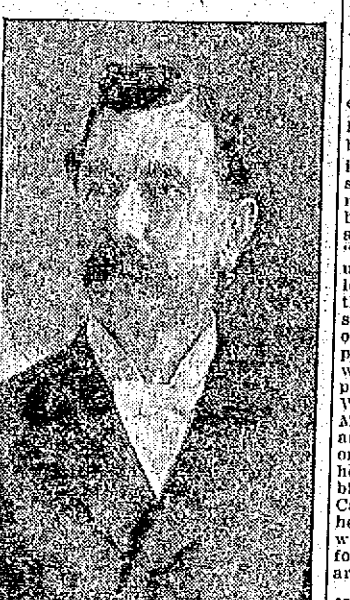

Of the Gorham Street Methodist Church

At the annual society meeting of the Gorham Street Methodist church, held last evening, Rev. N. W. Matthews, was unanimously elected pastor. It was his 13th election as pastor of the Gorham Street church.

Mr. Joseph Sutcliffe had charge of the opening exercises of the meeting. E. W. Stark was moderator and Sam Asquith, clerk.

It was voted to increase the pastor's salary $100. The election of a pastor was next in order and Messrs. Carl Santesson, Fred Leth and Fred Potter were appointed tellers.

For pastor, first choice, Rev. N. W. Matthews was unanimously elected.

REV. N. W. MATTHEWS

for second choice, Rev. S. T. Nichols of Philadelphia, and third choice, Rev. J. T. Barlow of Fall River.

Messrs. David Latham and E. Robinson were delegated to the parsonage and met with the Rev. N. W. Matthews while the congregation rose and sang, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

The pastor thanked the members for their invitation to stay another year. While he did not state his intentions at the present time, waiting for the official notification from the clerk, it is nevertheless expected that he will accept. He also stated that the past year had been a very successful one both spiritually and financially. About 25 have been admitted to membership and $700 has been paid off the debt.

The society also voted to hold the annual effort for debt reduction in the fall. It was decided to hold a bazaar.

The meeting closed with the benediction by the pastor after which the quarterly conference met for the confirmation of the nominees.

THE OPERA HOUSE

What is proving the most successful week of the present stock season at the Opera House, is now being played by the Thompson-Plynn players who are presenting Charles Klein's powerful American drama of financial and social life, "The Lion and the Mouse," every afternoon and evening this week. This play which has been one of the most successful of any that has been produced during the past twenty years, has never before been seen here at popular prices and is curing it for the current week's bill the management has not only paid a very large royalty for the use of the play but has gone to a considerable expense in staging it, with the result that a complete production equal in

SCHOOL BUILDINGS

SHOULD BE PUT TO GREATER USE, SAYS DR. STITT

BOSTON, March 3.—"Public school buildings should be put to a greater use, with mixed dancing for children, moving picture shows once a week, bowling alleys in the waste cellars, cooking schools (and clubs for fathers and mothers)," declared Dr. Edward W. Stitt, district superintendent of public schools of New York city, last night at one of the first day's sessions of the Massachusetts civic conference.

Dr. Stitt believes the public buildings could be profitably used "to combat idleness and evil influences of moving picture-shows in bad localities, furnish moral and physical safety for children and for 'teaching' them 'organized games.' He deplored the fact that such buildings caused a great waste at the present time, being used but a small portion of the time.

THE VETO BILL

LABOR COUNCIL

Arranging for Spring and Summer Season

Second Reading Was Passed by a Majority of 125

LONDON, March 3.—Four days of the most unrelenting debate ever given a measure involving a great constitutional reform came to an end last night when Premier Asquith applied closure and the second reading of the veto bill was passed by a majority of 125, the vote being 368 to 243. Prior to this the house divided on Asquith Chamberlain's amendment, with a majority of 321 against it.

The figures on the veto bill were greeted with prolonged cheers, after which the bill, on the premier's motion, was committed to a committee of the whole house for this stage, which is likely to be deferred some time, to enable the government to dispose of financial business. The opposition leaders are drafting an elaborate series of amendments.

The participation of Mr. Balfour in today's debate gave a temporary fillip to the otherwise dull proceedings. Although not in the best of form the former premier kept the interest alive, but not always to the entire advantage of his party. For instance, expatiating on the value of the hereditary principle, he exclaimed: "Let it be our servant; let it no longer be our master."

This admission was received with a burst of laughter.

Pending the committee stage of the bill, interest will now center in the expected production next week of Lord Lansdowne's bill for the reform of the House of Lords.

Mr. Chamberlain's amendment, which was defeated, was moved on Monday last on behalf of the opposition. It was to the effect that the house would welcome the introduction of a bill which, while reforming the composition of the house of lords, maintained its independence as a sovereign chamber, but declined to proceed with a measure which placed all effective legislative authority in the hands of a single chamber and offered no safeguard against grave changes made without the consent of the people.

The members of the Trades and Labor council held their regular meeting last night at 32 Middle street. President John J. Mahoney occupied the chair and 26 delegates were present.

A communication was received from Senator W. M. Murphy, stating that he had recommended the appointment of the two men endorsed by the council for inspector and assistant inspector of locomotive engines. These two men are E. H. Jeffries and J. H. Jackson, both of Pennsylvania, and formerly president and vice president of the Brotherhood of Trainmen.

A letter was also received from Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, in which the senator stated that he was sorry, for he has recommended other men for the positions.

A communication from the International Paper Makers' union calling the attention of the delegates to the fact that unless labor paper can now be procured, was read and referred to the labor committee.

A communication from the Federation of Churches, asking for the privilege of sending fraternal delegates to the council meeting was read, and it was unanimously voted to grant the request.

The stationary firemen reported that Senator Quigley has introduced a bill in their favor and asked the council to endorse the same, and the request was granted.

The delegates connected with the building trades reported that business in their various lines was picking up, and they looked for a prosperous spring and summer.

The legislative committee reported that they have been actively at work in behalf of the various labor bills now before the legislature.

The labor committee organized with Timothy Bourke as chairman and Joseph S. Mitchell as secretary. Several important matters were referred to the committee.

DISORDERED DIGESTION

If Neglected May Develop Into a Severe Form of Stomach Trouble.

The Best Safeguard Is to Keep the Stomach Toned Up and the Treatment Should Be Begun When the First Symptom Is Noted.

"A few years ago," says Mrs. George Fallu, of Finlayson, Minn., "I began to suffer from stomach trouble. It came on me gradually and I do not know what caused it. I gave little heed to it at the time thinking that it was merely a slight attack of indigestion. It finally developed into a severe form of stomach trouble and I suffered terribly for months."

"At the beginning of my sickness I had fainting spells and became unconscious. There was gas on my stomach, my appetite was very poor and what little I ate did not seem to be digested. I was sick at my stomach, a great deal and had severe dizzy attacks. I had hot flashes when it would seem as though I was burning up. I could not sleep night or day during these spells unless I took something to ease the pain. I was very weak and was in this condition for six months. I could not do any work and was confined to bed for two or three days at a time."

"A doctor at Duluth said I had gastric fever. He did not give me much help so I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills upon my mother's advice. I gave the pills a thorough trial and unlike the doctor's medicine, they agreed with me. I took several boxes of the pills and was entirely cured. I think so much of the pills that I always keep them in the house."

The tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills by building up the blood so that it can nourish and strengthen the weakened digestive system has made hundreds of cures in the most severe stomach disorders. This record of cures should merit a trial for the remedy which is guaranteed free from opiates.

A new edition of the booklet, "What to Eat and How to Eat," is free on request. Send a postal for it today and begin to cure yourself by following the directions it contains.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are on sale at all druggists, or they will be sent to any address by mail postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

At O'Donnell Dry Goods Company

Lowell people, particularly our merchants, always have their weather eye out for wonderful bargains, and very often are successful in landing large stocks of merchandise that mean a wonderful money saving for Lowell traders. Mr. James H. Kelley of the O'Donnell Dry Goods Company has proved himself on many occasions to be one of the keenest buyers in the business. Only a short time ago, Mr. H. L. Smith of Norfolk street, Dorchester, who had been in the dry goods business, decided to retire and place his stock at the mercy of the purchaser who would give the most for it in a lump sum. Mr. Kelley here scored a great triumph in being able to purchase almost the entire stock of this big department house at a price that will give him a chance to create one of the biggest bargain sensations of the year at his store.

The goods are an immense lot consisting of dry goods and notions, ladies' furnishings, gloves, handkerchiefs, neckwear, underwear, etc., besides a very select lot of men's furnishings. These goods are arriving every day, and being unpacked and arranged in the basement of this big store so that they can be easily selected by the prospective buyers, and when the quality and the price are considered the sale will be a prize for the bargain hunters.

There have been many big sales in Lowell, and also by this particular firm but this will prove a record breaker. It certainly ought to, as the goods are first quality, and clean, and no shop worn stock is among them.

Mr. Kelley, the manager, has a little army of clerks in the basement unpacking, marking, and arranging to get these goods ready for public inspection and purchase, so that there will be a hot time in the old town within a very short time, and it would be well for every prudent housekeeper to keep in mind this announcement which will appear at an early date in the Sun in a big display of a word to the wise should be sufficient. This sale will appeal more strongly to the bargain hunting patrons than any that has been announced in many months. Keep your eye out for the big ad, and then go down and make your raid on the bargain counters.

ST. RAILWAY BILL CIVIL SERVICE

Tie Vote Expected in List of Examinations to be Held Committee

BOSTON, March 3.—After spending two hours mulling over the street railway trolleyman's bill to give the men 9 hours in 11 for their day's work instead of 10 hours in 12, which is now their work day, the street railway and labor committees, sitting jointly, yesterday voted to report the bill by a vote of 10 to 9, but with five members to be polled.

The anticipation is that the committee will finally stand 12 to 12.

The vote at present stands:

For the bill—Street railways, Hibbard, Parks, Reidy, Henchey, Breckinridge, Daly, labor, Grainger, Sylvester, Curran, Sargent—10.

Against the bill—Street railways, Bennett, Curley, Hardy, Ellis, Hathaway of Dedham, Crane, Kilpatrick, labor, Bagge—9.

To be polled—Ross, Mellen, Keith, Levin and Hathaway of New Bedford—5.

The advocates for the bill count upon the votes of Senator Ross and Representative Lewis. Senators Mellen and Keith will vote against the bill and if Representative Hathaway of New Bedford should join them that would give the opposition 12.

GANG OF BURGLARS

Believed to Have Made Their Headquarters in Boston

BOSTON, March 3.—That this city has until recently been the rendezvous of a gang of burglars who have broken into postoffice safes in New England towns was learned by Deputy Superintendent Watts yesterday and he assigned Inspectors Conway, Hart, Cronin and Angell to make a thorough investigation. Some of the safe workers, it was intimated by his informant, are still in town.

Earlier in the week eight men were rounded up in Lowell by the police of that city and Inspector Harry Robinson of the postoffice department. These arrests, Deputy Watts says, were made as a result of information he received and gave to Chief Inspector Lawrence Letherman of the postoffice department.

Following the raid at Lowell, Deputy Watts sent Inspector Gustafson, the Bertillon expert, there and he took finger impressions of the men and questioned them sharply. The police of the Spindle city photographed the suspects and when Gustafson returned to look over the rogues' gallery he unearthed important information concerning six of the men, who, he says, have criminal records.

The men under arrest, it is said, may be able to tell considerable about a score of postoffice robberies committed in this state and in towns of other New England states during a period covering more than two years. These men were always armed and resorted to violence at the slightest provocation.

A man who gave the name of George Howard at Lowell is known in police circles as "Detroit Goofie." Thomas Kelley is familiarly known to the authorities as John Davis, "Pete" Kelley and "Pete the Dude."

Charles Hamilton was identified as "Hamilton Dutch" and John Kennedy as "Hamilton Jack." In the Canadian provinces and in the vicinity of the Great Lakes the latter men are known to the police. One, who said that he was John Barry, has a picture in the rogues' gallery at Pemberton square. "Chick" McCarthy and John McCarthy are names by which he is better known to the police here.

Walter White, otherwise known as Walter Stewart, has the police saying operated extensively in the vicinity of Dover, N. H.

When the men were arrested in Lowell, burglars' tools and revolvers in their possession were seized. The greatest care was exercised in trapping them, as they were regarded as of the desperate type.

The Fountain Head of Life Is The Stomach

A man who has a weak and impaired stomach and who does not properly digest his food will soon find that his blood has become weak and impoverished, and that his whole body is improperly and insufficiently nourished.

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY makes the stomach strong; promotes the flow of digestive juices; restores the lost appetite; makes assimilation perfect; invigorates the liver, and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder and restorative nerve tonic. It makes men strong in body, active in mind and cool in judgment.

This "Discovery" is a pure, glyceric extract of American medicinal roots, absolutely free from alcohol and all injurious, habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on its wrappers. It has no relationship with secret nostrums. Its every ingredient is endorsed by the leaders in all the schools of medicine. Don't accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this time-proven remedy of known composition. Ask your neighbors. They must know of many cures made by it during past 40 years, right in your own neighborhood. World's Dispensary, Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

of the roads, in continuation of the previous days' conferences it was decided to accept the decision as final and to file cancellations of the tariffs continuing the proposed advances with the Interstate commerce commission at Washington on Monday. This will be four days in a vance of the date set by the commission in requesting the withdrawal of the tariffs by March 10 as an alternative to a formal order prescribing the present rates for two years.

MAKE YOUR OWN HAIR TONIC

A SPECIALIST'S ADVICE. In a recent issue the New York Herald published a special article on the care of the hair, in which was given the formula for a home-made Hair Tonic, which was highly recommended for its remarkable hair-growing properties, as well as for stopping falling hair, revitalizing the hair roots, destroying the dandruff germ and restoring gray hair to its natural color. This article was of special interest to me, as the formula was one which I myself have prescribed in countless cases with most astonishing results. I remember one case in particular in which I prescribed it for a man who had been bald for many years and in less than two months after he began his use his head was completely covered with a luxuriant growth of rich, glossy hair, thus proving that hair can be made to grow on a bald head, notwithstanding the opinion of many persons to the contrary.

For the benefit of those who have not seen it before, I give the formula herewith: 6 ounces of Bay Rum, 2 ounces Lavona de Composee, one-half drachm Alcohol Crystals. Dissolve the Crystals in the Bay Rum and then add the Lavona de Composee; shake thoroughly and apply night and morning to the roots of the hair, rubbing into the scalp with the fingers. This preparation contains no coloring matter, but restores gray hair to its natural color by its action on the hair roots. If you feel that it is necessary, one teaspoonful of Talcum Powder, which combines perfectly with the other ingredients and imparts a most pleasing gloss.

Before publication we presented this prescription to the Riker-Joyce Drug Co., this city, and they state that they have used it many times for their patrons who report most astonishing results from its use.

WESTERN ROADS TO ACCEPT INTERSTATE BOARD'S DECISION

CHICAGO, March 3.—The railroads running west of Chicago have decided to bow to the will of the Interstate commerce commission and to accept without appeal its decision denying them a general advance in commodity freight rates. At a meeting of the executive and freight traffic officers
